WANTED THE TRUTH.

Census Enumerator Objected to a Statement Given Him by a Young Lady.

An amusing story is told on one of the census enumerators who has just finished his work. He called at a Third street house to interview a young lady. The parents of the young lady are English, but she was born in Paris. She answered all the questions of the enumerator in an intelligent manner and when he asked her where she was born she promptly replied Paris. The enumerator looked at her and said: "Look here young lady, I don't want any foolishness. I want to know where you were born. She answered: "I was born in Paris." The enumerator then got mad, and, showing his badge said: "I want you to understand that I am a United States officer, and if you don't answer my questions I will have you arrested. I want the truth and nothing but the truth, and am going to have it." The lady replied that she was telling the truth and finally the enumerator accepted her statement and put her down as being born in Paris.

HOW TO DIG COAL.

Attorney A. H. Clark and Joe Turnbull Had a Contest at Salineville.

Attorney A. H. Clark last week demonstrated to some of his friends that he had not forgot how to dig coal. A wager was laid that Joe Turnbull could dig more coal in 10 minutes than Clark could. Last Friday evening the contestants and a few of their friends went to Salineville and were taken down in the slope mine, where the contest took place. The attorney had no trouble in carrying off the honors.

She was formerly engaged as bookkeeper at the Eagle Hardware company.

A TRUST.

Pottery League Umpires Would Like to Have a Raise in Salary.

There is some talk that the Pottery league umpires will organize a trust for the purpose of raising the price for their services. They now draw $1 a game and their street car fare and claim that it is not enough. Umpire Carey is the promoter of the trust, and it is probable the question will be brought up at the next meeting of the league.

GOOD WORDS FOR CAREY.

A Western Ball Player Thinks He Would Make a Record Beater on a Hitting Team.

"I think that Carey, of Buffalo, would make a world beater on a hitting team," says a western player. "I've watched him two seasons now, and he's got everything in the fielding line. There is nothing better. He has always hit well against us. Get him on the Philadelphia team, for instance, and he'd help work them into the championship."

STAR BARGAIN STORE ON FIRE

Blaze Discovered in the Cellar of the Harvey Building on Fifth This Morning.

THE ORIGIN IS A MYSTERY

Supposed to Have Started Among Canton Flannel by Spontaneous Combustion.

EXCITING SCENES FOR A TIME

A fire broke out in the basement of the Star Bargain store this forenoon about 10:30 o'clock. The fire department responded quickly to the call, and by their prompt and skillful action put out a blaze which might have caused great damage had it been given an opportunity to spread.

The fire originated in the basement on a hanging shelf containing canton flannels. This shelf extends from the rear of the basement to the furnace near the center of the building. There had been no fire in the furnace for over three months and no gas jet in that part of the basement was lighted. The cause of the fire was probably spontaneous combustion.

Smoke was discovered coming through a hole in the floor in the rear of the store. George Grim seized a bucket of water and went into the cellar to find the entire shelf containing the canton flannels ablaze. The fire spread rapidly, much of the goods stored in the cellar being very combustible. Clouds of smoke filled the store rooms and poured out through every opening, driving nearly every one from the scene except the firemen, who went into the basement to fight the flames. George Wilhelm lives over the store and his wife, who was lying sick, had to be carried from the building and was taken to the home of W. E. Lytle, who lives across the street.

The building is owned by John Harvey. Wasbutzky Bros., proprietors of the store, had a small blaze in the store less than three weeks ago, when the damage was slight compared to the loss by this fire.

It was not long before the department had the fire under control. The Babcocks were not brought into use, as Chief Morley saw that the fire had too much of a start for them to be of any effect.

The building was damaged to a slight extent, $100 will probably fully cover the loss on the building. The contents of the store were fully covered with insurance. The loss of Wasbutzky Bros. is not known, but is estimated at about $600.

KILNDRAWERS PLAYED.

The National China Company Men Defeated the Laughlin No. 2 Aggregation.

The kilndrawers of the National China company and the kilndrawers of the Laughlin No. 2 plant played a very interesting ball game last Saturday afternoon. The National China company kilndrawers won the game by a score of 22 to 11.

Was Returned.

Mrs. Hamilton Gaston, in returning from East Liverpool today, lost her pocketbook containing about $9.00.

After she had left the train Conductor Coleman found it and it was returned to her.—Toronto Tribune.

RICHARD REDDICK.

The Wonderful Age of This Man Duly Authenticated.

Superintendent E. R. Riddle, of the Columbiana county infirmary, has now in his possession papers which show that Richard Reddick, the colored man who lately died at the infirmary, was really 123 years of age at the time of his death. The record shows as follows:

"Richard Reddick, born July 4, 1777, died June 11, 1900."

The papers spoken of are the freedom papers of deceased, he having been a slave for many years of his life.

The writer had the privilege of a conversation with Mr. Reddick a few days before his death, and the patriarch had no shadow of doubt of the future and of his inheritance in a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens, through the wondrous mercy of the Master and the atoning blood of the Saviour. Mrs. Reddick is now an inmate of the infirmary, expresses herself as content in the will of the Master, and states that she has the full assurance that she shall meet her husband in the sweet bye and bye in that beautiful city of God.

It has not been decided what will be done in regard to bringing George Heckathorne back to this city. The acting prosecuting attorney and county commissioners expect to decide the question some time today and will let the authorities here know at once. CLARK TO TALK HERE SUNDAY

Author of the Famous Clark Local Option Bill to Speak in East Liverpool.

WAS AT WELLSVILLE YESTERDAY

And Delivered an Address on the Past and Future of the Defeated Bill.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

The union temperance meeting held at the United Presbyterian church, Wellsville, yesterday afternoon was a big success. The principal speaker was Hon. T. W. Clark, author of the famous Clark local option bill which attracted so much attention during the last session of the legislature. There was a large audience and a large speech. Mr. Clark gave the meeting a good, straight forward talk, without bitterness or extravagance, and made many friends for the cause by his clear and comprehensive statement of his position. The previous Sunday he spoke at Canton and interested a large audience. At the recent state Sunday school convention, held at Akron, he held an audience of over 2,000 for two hours. He is the first politician of note to take the platform for straight temperance, and is now speaking each Sunday mainly at county seats. He will be in East Liverpool next Sunday and will address a union temperance meeting in the First Presbyterian church at 3 p. m.

Mr. Clark spoke at Wellsville on the "Past and Future of the Clark Local Option Bill." He said the defeat at the last legislature was only a temporary defeat; that he or somebody else would introduce the same bill at the next legislature and so on ad infinitum until it became a law. He dwelt upon the perfect fairness of the measure and the reasonableness of giving residents of each ward the right to say whether or not they should have saloons in their district. There was nothing extravagant or radical in the proposal and it was drafted in accordance with true American principles, and had its basis in the idea of government by the people.

Mr. Clark was followed by Dr. J. C. Jackson, assistant national secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, and by G. Y. Raynor, assistant state secretary. In introducing Mr. Raynor the chairman said he was probably the most hated man in Ohio. During the past 18 months he has been mobbed three times, shot at twice and jailed once. He made an interesting talk, his crisp, bright remarks arousing the audience to enthusiastic interest.

INJUNCTION CASE.

Evidence in Cases Will be Taken Here Some Time During This Week.

The street railway injunction cases were not heard at Lisbon last Saturday. Evidence in the cases will be taken in this city this week in order to do away with the expense of taking witnesses to Lisbon. The evidence in the cases will then be submitted and arguments made to Judge Hole.

IS INSANE FROM CIGARETTES

Well Known Young Man of Salem Became Violent and Was Adjudged Insane.

TO BE TAKEN TO MASSILLON

Probate Judge Boone Examines Him and Orders His Commitment Saturday

NOW IN THE INFIRMARY

Salem, June 18.—(Special)—Edward Scott, an unfortunate young man supposed to be insane, was examined in this city by Probate Judge Boone and Dr. A. C. Yenling and declared to be insane. Deputy Sheriffs Chris Bick and Howard Noragon, of Lisbon, conveyed Scott to the county jail. He was taken to the infirmary Saturday, where he will remain until admission papers have been made out and he has been accepted by the Massillon hospital authorities. He will be taken to the asylum Wednesday or Thursday.

Scott is about 26 years old, well dressed and well known to the greater part of Salem. His parents are dead. He worked at the nail mill before it shut down. He then went about the country looking for work at his trade, he being a nailer. He failed to find such work and went to Sebring, where his brother, O. B. Scott, resides.

Some weeks ago Scott had signs of mental weakness and his brother took him to Cleveland, where he went through a short course of treatment. Later he returned to Sebring and then came to Salem. He has been gradually going down for some time past.

Friday O. B. Scott came here to see Ed, who has been staying at Mrs. Irwin's boarding house on West Dry street. Saturday morning Ed jumped through a door and said he was afraid "they" would kill him. Officer Bush was summoned and he brought the unfortunate man up town and locked him up.

O. B. Scott says his brother's condition is due to cigarette smoking, worrying over financial troubles, social and religious affairs.

Dr. A. W. Schiller examined Scott and pronounced his case of a serious nature. He is easily startled, uneasy and has a loss of memory, as well as being suspicious of everybody.

We don't want you to think that because we advertise our fancy check and striped suits, that we have no others, as there is no goods in the market that is worth having, but what you can get, and at the lowest prices to be had in our city.

SIDE PATH COMMISSION.
Salem Cyclists Ask Judge Boone to Give This County One Under the New Law.

Salem cyclists have interested themselves in the matter of sidepaths in the county to the extent that they have prepared a petition which is to be forwarded to Judge Boone of the probate court at Lisbon, praying for the appointment of a bicycle sidepath commission under the DeRan law enacted at the late session of the legislature. Those who signed the petition are W. H. Matthews, H. E. Phillips, C. S. Carr, W. J. Clark and R. P. Trimble, the law requiring the probate judge to make the appointment of a commission upon the petition of five cyclists. Salem will be the first to act under the law, as nothing has so far been done in this county, although many other counties in the state have taken advantage of the new law.

The Democrats of Grant district met in the Chester school house Saturday evening for the purpose of nominating district officers and electing delegates to the county convention being held at New Cumberland this afternoon. The meeting had a fair attendance and the selections were made very harmoniously. Harry Finley was nominated for constable, John Bunting, of Congo, received the nomination for justice of the peace, and J. W. Mills for member of the school board. J. W. Finley and I. F. Allison were elected by acclamation to serve as delegates to the county convention. They received no instructions, but it is understood that their votes for sheriff will be for C. A. Allison, the candidate from Grant district. A strong sentiment was expressed in favor of Mr. Allison, as the Democrats of the district believe he can be elected if he receives the nomination.

The ball game at Rock Springs Saturday between the Burford and Laughlin No. 1 teams was not a "thing of beauty or joy forever" by any means, and was an unusually ragged contest.

In the second both teams were shut out, but in the fourth Burfords made four on three errors by Headley, Seely and Bennett and one by Webb. Laughlins made one in their half on errors by Callahan and Robinson and a double by Webb.

In the fourth Burfords made three more on three singles and an error by Headley. Laughlins scored six in this half on three singles, a triple, a fielder's choice, a base on balls and errors by Hester and Shell.

Burfords made one in the fifth on a single and errors by Headley and Cooley. Laughlins also scored one in their half on a single, a hit by pitched ball and a fielder's choice.

In the sixth Burfords made four on errors by Roberts and Finch, one wild pitch, a single and a double. Laughlins made one in their half on errors by Lounds and Emmerling.

In the seventh both teams got a shut out, but in the eighth Burfords made three more on errors by Bennett and Finch and a single. Laughlins got shut out in the eighth and ninth. The score:

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1900.

This Date In History—June 18.

1776—The British evacuated Philadelphia.
1812—Congress declared war against Great Britain.

President Madison sent his war message to Congress June 1, and two days later the committee on foreign relations in the house of representatives reported a manifesto as a basis of the declaration of war for these reasons: The impression of American men by the commanders of British ships of war, the British doctrine and system of blockade, the orders in council, and, lastly, various depositions committed by British subjects on the commerce of the United States. The house adopted the measure, then the senate, and on June 18 the president signed the act declaring war.

1815—Battle of Waterloo.
1804—Bishop Matthew Simpson died in Philadelphia; born in Cadiz, O., 1811.

1804—William Hart, N. A., a well known painter, died at Mount Vernon, N. Y.; born 1822.

1807—John M. Francis, editor of the Troy Times and formerly United States minister to Greece, Portugal and Austria, died in Troy, N. Y.; born 1823.

WILL IT BE ROOSEVELT?

The New Yorker seems to be in the saddle, and to have the second place on the ticket of the Republican party if he so desires. He may accept, and again he may not accept. It would make a strong ticket, and the Rough Rider's name would aid McKinley in receiving a still greater majority than that which he is already booked for. Possibly our Democratic friends, under such circumstances, may withdraw from the contest and declare McKinley and Roosevelt the choice of the nation by acclamation.

MAYOR'S COURT.

FOUR PEOPLE CONTRIBUTE TO THE POLICE PAYROLL.

Mrs. Gourley Slept on Lincoln Avenue—Some Plain Drunks Also in Evidence.

Business in police court was very good Saturday and Monday and four victims were gathered in to help furnish the city with cash to run the department.

Mrs. Daniel Gourley was the first victim and when Officer Aufderheide found her she was using Lincoln avenue as a sleeping place, contrary to the laws and ordinances of the city. Mrs. Gourley received a cordial invitation to accompany the officer to the city jail. She accepted the invitation, but failed to thank the officer for his treatment of her. When they arrived at city hall she was given a cell in the ladies' department and when she faced the mayor she was turned out. She made a piteous plea and shed copious tears and the mayor decided to give her another chance.

Terry Alcock went into George Parry's saloon on Second street Saturday night. Alcock made himself obnoxious and the proprietor put him out in a forcible manner. Gill made the arrest and Alcock paid the city the sum of $5 and costs.

Jack Sharp was not as sharp as his name would indicate and he loaded up with bad liquor yesterday. The sharp eye of Officer McDonald discovered Sharp and he was arrested and given a ride to the county jail. He put up security for his appearance and will call on the mayor this evening and find out how much it costs to get drunk in the city.

A telephone message was received at city hall yesterday stating that there was a drunken man in the alley in the rear of the opera house. Chief Thompson sent Officer Dawson to look after him. The officer returned with his prisoner and he is still in jail awaiting a hearing. His name is Chidlers.

WATERFORDS WON.

Eclipse Nine Lost the Game by 9 to 8,
But It Was a Dandy,
Good One.

The Eclipse base ball team went to New Waterford last Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the team of that village by a score of 9 to 8. The Eclipse boys played good ball and their defeat was due to the splendid work of Folk, an outfielder of the New Waterford team, who made a phenomenal one-hand catch of a ball hit by Barker. He also batted very hard. The score:

R. H. E.
Eclipse 8 16 4
New Waterford 9 16 5
Batteries—Ashbaugh and Millward; Betz and Weeks.

The teams lined up as follows:

Eclipse—Millward, catcher; Ashbaugh, pitcher; Barker, short; Gibson, first; Heckathorne, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Daugherty, right.

New Waterford—Meeks, catcher; Betz, pitcher; Brimlow, short; Lyons, first; Broadbent, second; Vanfossan, third; Foulk, left; Esterly, middle; Bretts, right.

DISPUTE BETWEEN OWNERS

THAT'S WHAT IRONSIDES' TROUBLE NOW AMOUNTS TO.

Allen Comes Back at Cochran and Gives His Side of the Case an Airing.

True American.

Trenton, June 18.—The Ironsides pottery trouble has become a dispute between owners of the property.

Mr. Cochran's side of the story, that he and Mr. Allen control a majority of the stock, would undoubtedly be true if he and Mr. Allen were working together, but they are not. Mr. Allen says Mr. Cochran was the man who made the agreement Sunday week that the men should go to work at their own terms, but Mr. Allen says he never gave his consent. He says he told the committee that he could not approve the agreement, right then and there.

Mr. Allen, in conversation with a True American reporter, says that the men were getting 13 days for kilns. An agreement, a copy of which was shown, was made April 19 of this year. The men, however, later on asked 16½, etc. Mr. Allen says the directors consented to meet the men half way, and give them 14½ days and to deliver all ware delivered on bench to them, but that the men refuse this compromise.

Mr. Allen says that neither he nor Mr. Cochran has power to settle with the men, for there are three others who are to be consulted. The board of directors is the body that has the right. The board is not at odds, but is acting as a unit. Mr. Allen says there is no uniform scale in existence for placing sanitary ware, no two potteries paying alike.

The board met and decided not to agree to the demands, and to employ any workmen who present themselves, with the intention of withdrawing from the Brotherhood and forming a union of their own, unless settlement is made at once on terms offered.

Unique Announcement.

Canton is going to have one of the greatest Fourth of July celebrations ever held in this section. The dedication of the Spanish cannon, trophy of the Spanish-American war, will be the chief feature of the exercises, in which a number of the most prominent men in the United States will take part. President McKinley is expected home for the Fourth.

The committee in charge have sent out the following press notice:

"As in the spring time the cataracts leap down from the mountains, and the streams rush out from the valleys, and the rivers roll on to the sea, so will the people gather from the hills and valleys, the towns and villages, the cities and counties, to participate in and see the great Fourth of July celebration at Canton, O."

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Met With Committeeman Josiah T. Smith, of Council, This Morning and Prepared a

DRAFT OF SALOON ORDINANCE

Proposals Being Made In Some Quarters to Have People Vote on the Issue.

COUNCIL MUST ACT ON IT FIRST

The East Liverpool and Wellsville Ministerial association met in this city this morning in conformity with the action of council at its last meeting, when President Marshall appointed a committee of three from that body, J. T. Smith, O. D. Nice and George Peach, to confer with the members of the ministerial association in regard to drafting an ordinance for the abolition of the saloon in this city.

Councilmen Nice and Peach found it impossible to be present and Chairman Smith was the only member of the committee of council present. The full ministerial association was in attendance.

The ordinance drafted at the meeting will be presented to council at the proper time in due form and drafted in such a manner and by such authority that legal quibbles will be useless in case the ordinance is passed by the representative body of our city.

It is understood that the backers of the ministerial association are legion, that they are intensely in earnest and that they intend to bring this matter to an issue and place our councilmanic body on record. There is a possibility that every member of council will vote for the passage of the ordinance, and that the saloon will be banished from our municipality.

We have it from reliable authority that one member of council, fearful of the results, vote as he may, is warmly advocating the idea of the submission of the issue of "saloons or no saloons" to the vote of the people, so that the members of council may be directed and guided to act in conformity with the wishes of the majority. The wish of the people, however, has been expressed on three different occasions in this city and the people have decided against the saloon each time, only to be treated with contempt by former councilmanic bodies, and the saloon still controls in the city.

This time, however, we understand that the ministerial ordinance will be acted upon and the councilmen placed on record, and that then, if they fail to exclude the saloons further measures will be taken looking towards ousting the liquor traffic by law.

As we have stated before, in the News Review, the battle is on to a finish and the great mass of the people of the city of East Liverpool will be given an opportunity to say whether or not they desire the saloon to remain with us.

Lisbon, June 18.—(Special)—George B. Harvey opened his new bank for business this morning. It occupies the large room on the ground floor of the court house directly under the treasurer's office. The room, which used to be one of the darkest parts of the court house, is now one of the lightest and most pleasant in the building. END OF ENGLISH POTTERY STRIKE

Described In the London Potter's Gazette Just Received In This Country.

FFECTED 20,000 WORKPEOPLE

Efforts In the Interests of Industrial Harmony Won Out In the Finish.

DETAILS OF HOW IT WAS DONE

We are pleased to announce that the unhappy dispute which has so long prevailed in the earthenware trade, and which has affected the labor of upwards of 20,000 workpeople—men and women—has been settled, says the Pottery Gazette of June 1. The suspense which existed when we went to press with our last issue has been maintained until Monday last, when it was relieved by an arrangement which admitted of a resumption of work, which took place on Tuesday morning. On Saturday last the manufacturers had a long interview with the representatives of the workers, at which they offered a definite increase of 5 per cent in wages to commence from October 1, and at the same time gave an understanding that individual grievances should be redressed. These conditions were submitted to a mass meeting of workpeople held at Hanley on Monday morning by the reading of the following resolution passed at the conference on Saturday.

"The manufacturers having again met the operatives' executives, and further discussed the matter in difference, and in order to put an end to the unfortunate dispute, agree to give advance asked for—5 per cent from first of October next. All works will be opened on Tuesday next. At the same time the manufacturers again repeat their promise that all individual grievances shall be referred to the committee on conciliation at the earliest possible moment."

The men were well advised in accepting these terms unanimously. The assembly was one of the largest ever held in the trade, and when the chairman put the question as to the acceptance of the masters' offer, every hand was held up in favor of it. It would, in our opinion, have been monstrous on the part of the employees if it had been otherwise. We are sincere in expressing our satisfaction that the trouble has ended, and we trust that the establishment of the committee on conciliation will prevent any repetition of it for a long time to come. In our last issue (as in many previous issues) we urged the desirability of establishing either an arbitration board or a conciliation board, to which both employers and workers in the potteries might refer their differences. We are pleased to see that an attempt is to be made to do this. While we congratulate all parties on the settlement of their differences, by the acceptance on the part of the men of the offer made by the employers, we do not propose at this moment to discuss the question as to whether the employers were, strictly speaking, commercially justified in making that offer. We do not expect all who have been championing the cause of the men to believe it, but we happen to know that the offer was made purely in the interests of industrial harmony. It ought to be received, and we are sure hundreds of intelligent workers will receive it as a benevolent concession in a painful crisis, rather than an admission that the employers have hitherto been seeking to obtain terms which were not justifiable, and were on that account abandoned. In the excitement of the apparent "victory" over the employers we can understand the men's leaders applauding "the tenacity and strength of mind and will" of the workers. In the settlement of trade differences other virtues are desirable besides tenacity, and fortunately for the workers the employers have not only possessed but have, we venture to say, generously exercised them.

Those fine, split braid straw hats that we bought last week from one of the best manufacturers of the country, are big sellers. We only have 83 more hats left. If you want to take advantage of them, now is the time, as we have all sizes left at present, but we can't tell how long they will last. Prices $2 and $2.50.

PERPLEXING PROBLEMS

Involved In the Settlement of the Snodgrass Estates Now In County Courts.

Lisbon, June 18.—(Special)—The court will be called upon to answer some difficult and perplexing questions which have arisen under the petition filed Saturday by Ross W. Firestone, as administrator of the estate of John K. Snodgrass, against James Charters, as administrator of the Susan Snodgrass estate, and about 50 other defendants. When John Snodgrass died in '54, he willed his entire estate, consisting of a 70 acre farm just east of this city, and personal property, to his wife, Susan Snodgrass, to be hers during her life time. It was also provided that she should dispose of $3,000 of the valuation of the farm by will or otherwise as she saw fit, and at her death, when the farm was sold the residue after that was to go to Dr. James Snodgrass, Mrs. Mary Steele, Mrs. Jane Rhodes and Mrs. Ann Snodgrass, sisters and brothers of the deceased. Several months ago she died leaving a will and according to the terms of her husband's will the plaintiff secured an order of sale from the probate court for the farm which he sold for $3,850. Perplexing questions then arose as to who should be the proper party to distribute the amount among the heirs to the two estates and the creditors, and the plaintiff determined that, owing to these conflicting claims, he could not safely pay out any of the sum without the direction of the court.

We received this week 143 more of those fine fancy check and striped English worsted suits, strictly all wool. They are beauties and you must not fail to see them, if you want a nice, nobby, dress suit.

U.S. TROOPS FOR CHINA

Ninth Regiment Ordered to Manila.

THEN TO PROCEED FROM THERE.

Dispatch From a French Consul Did Not Mention Killing of German Minister Yorktown Ordered to Try and Communicate With Kempff, and Then Reply.

MANILA, June 18.—Ten a.m. Manila time the Ninth regiment has been ordered to Manila, whence it will proceed to China.

PARIS, June 18.—A cablegram received from the French consul at Hong-kong did not mention the reported murder of the German minister at Pekin or the reported destruction of the legations there. The French consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed that the European detachments sent to Pekin were advancing very slowly. In the recent rioting in Pekin, the consul reported the Boxers burned the Protestant Episcopal establishments in the Chinese town. All was quiet in the French concession.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A third day passed here without a single line of news from any official source respecting the critical situation in China. Inquiries of the cable companies showed that not only were the communications by wire with Pekin, Taku, Tsin and all Northern China suspended, but the notices conveyed little encouragement for the hope that they would be soon reopened.

The navy department made an effort to reach Rear Admiral Kempff on his flagship Newark at the Taku forts, at the mouth of the Pei-Ho river. A cablegram was addressed to the commander of the U. S. S. Yorktown, at Chee Foo, repeating the message intimated to Admiral Kempff last Thursday, inquiring as to his situation, the conditions at Pekin at last report and into his need for more men and ships, and directing the commander to take the message at once to Taku and return with the answer. The department is now pretty well assured that the original message never reached Admiral Kempff. The department did not know whether the message to Chee Foo could be delivered, but made the effort. From Chee Foo to Taku is only a single day's run for the Yorktown, so that an answer from Admiral Kempff should be received by tonight, if Chee Foo was reached yesterday by the Yorktown.

Failing this effort, resort will be speedily had to other measures, if meantime word is not received from someone in authority in China.

Meanwhile, if the communications remain interrupted with Taku it is certain that a movement will be ordered at once to Manila to despatch more naval force or troops on the transports, to reinforce Admiral Kempff and extend aid to the international relief column which, it was beginning to be feared, was itself in sore need of help.

General MacArthur probably would require a few days to prepare a military expedition, owing to the inadvisability of reducing his present small garrison in Manila. Even Admiral Remey may be obliged to delay sending ships, owing to the absence of the smaller craft suitable for such service as is required on scouting duty among the islands of the archipelago.

The state department received numerous telegrams from relatives and friends of Americans in northern China and Pekin, praying for news touching the welfare of their friends. Mr. Ledward, of Detroit, father of the wife of the German ambassador at Pekin, reported to have been killed by the Boxers, was one of the most anxious of these inquirers, and ex-Secretary Alger was another, each intimating a willingness to meet any expense that might be involved in an order from the department to some responsible officials near the scene of the trouble to secure information by any means in their power.

LONDON, June 18.—3 a.m.—There is not a cabinet in Europe apparently that knows what has been transpiring in Pekin for five days or in Tien Tsin for three days. The German foreign office, upon learning the report of the murder of Baron Von Kettler, the German minister at Pekin, sent a telegraphic inquiry to St. Petersburg, the Russian government, because of its wires to Manchuria being supposedly in a better position than the other governments to get news. The German foreign office was informed that nothing whatever was known on the subject, as communication with Pekin was interrupted.

The report spread world wide from Shanghai that the legations had been attacked and that one minister, probably the German, had been murdered, was traced to the Tao Tai Shang who, for a few days, as the empress dowager's agent, has been censoring telegrams from Shanghai.

According to another tale ran from Shanghai dated June 17, 1:25 p.m., Shang had fled, fearing that the foreign authorities were about to arrest him because of his stoppage of telegrams.

A third cablegram asserted that the reports of the murder of German Minister emanated from London, were quite unconfirmed and discredited at Shanghai.

"The German minister has been captured," was the announcement to The Morning Post, from Pekin, in a dispatch dated June 13, 5 p.m., via Tien Tsin, June 15. This was the latest press message known to have left Pekin.

OUR OWN COUNTY.

The Scenery and Landscape Views Are Simply Magnificent.

Editor News Review: I am a comparative stranger in this community. I have the honor of residing in a far distant western state, on prairie land, where hills and mountains are conspicuous by their absence, and I have much enjoyed my dashes over these same prairies, seated on a fleet-footed mustang, at times varying the horseback exercise with a ride in a buck wagon, with two speedy roadsters whirling me along. There is much of happiness in our western home, and I have enjoyed the surroundings to the full.

But I have lately enjoyed a new and novel experience, in a gloriously beautiful day, through the medium of a drive from East Liverpool to Lisbon, your county seat, resting in a handsome equipage, behind a fine team of horses; up hill and down hill was indeed a decided novelty to me. And, oh the glorious views on every hand, as far as eye could embrace, forest and field ornamented with beautiful green, while the distant meadows seemed as if covered with the richest of velvet carpeting. The day was simply superb, the roadway free of dust and the air charged with the very essence of life giving properties, the combinations and surroundings causing me to mentally decide, on account of the carelessness and lack of appreciation of these beauties and blessings on the part of the Buckeye resident seated by my side:

"Surely the people of Columbiana county, Ohio, have become surfeited with the good things of life and the wondrous beauties embraced within their domain."

120 REBELS KILLED LAST WEEK.

Malaria Fever Among Soldiers—Members of Philippine Commission Divide Their Work Preparatory to Starting Sessions Sept. 1.

MANILA, June 18.—With the exception near Peneranda, when the Americans defeated an insurgent band under General Lucenas, the campaigning during the past week was quieter than usual. This was partly due to the rains, the wet season having commenced. An official bulletin states that the American losses during the week were four killed and 20 wounded. The rebels lost 120 killed and 30 captured, including three officers. One hundred and thirty insurgents surrendered and turned over 150 rifles. In addition 25 rifles were captured.

The heavy rains are also disconcerting the guerrillas, who are not able to live without shelter and who are unable to move rapidly owing to the condition of the country. This is the fourth day of the typhoon. Extremely heavy rains are falling in northern and central Luzon. The rivers are flooded and the railroad, where it passes through valleys, is inundated to the depth of half a foot. The telegraph line is down, and in Manila bay shipping has been delayed and damaged.

The commissary quartermasters have been working very hard for some time past in anticipation of the rainy season. They have succeeded in getting to a majority of the garrisons sufficient supplies to last from two to four months. So long as the rains prevail the work of supplying the garrisons in the distant interior will be most difficult.

Malaria fever has been prevalent since April in parts of Cavite and Batangas provinces, which are garrisoned by the Forty-sixth and Thirty-ninth regiments. Thirty per cent of the men of each regiment are on the sick list. Of two battalions in Batangas province one has 150 sick and the other 190.

Judge Taft and his colleagues of the civil commission are studying the different legislative phases of the situation preparatory to the work of enacting new laws on September 1, when they assume executive power. The subjects have been tentatively divided among them as follows:

Judge Taft, crown lands, land titles, the church and civil service, the last named with a view of bringing from the United States a good class of government employees who shall eventually replace army officers in the civil administration; Luke Wright, internal improvements, constabulary, commerce, corporation franchises and the criminal code; Henry C. Ide, banking and currency and the organization of civil courts; and Bernard Moses, revenues, taxation and schools.

The commissioners have established offices in the same building with General MacArthur and are receiving, discussing and absorbing the opinions of army and navy men and of foreigners and Filipinos. The people of Manila seem pleased with the democratic course of the commissioners and with their habitually courteous demeanor. The earlier feeling of disappointment is slowly disappearing.

Stockbroker Claimed He Tried to Enter His House While Drunk—Wife Told Different Story.

OMAHA, June 18.—C. H. King, a stock broker living on North Twenty-fifth street, shot and killed a hackman named James Flood. The tragedy occurred while passersby were numerous on their way to church and almost a panic resulted.

King had telephoned for a hack, he and his wife intending to take the train for Birmingham, Ala. Flood was intoxicated. King shot him for insisting on coming into the house, so he said King was found in Council Bluffs later and arrested.

Mrs. King says that there was some difficulty between the hackman and her husband over the fare to the railway station.

WILD FOR ROOSEVELT.

Delegates Flock to His Unfurled Standard.

MAY FORCE HIM TO ACCEPT.

It Is Said He Could Not Afford to Decline—He Expressed a Belief That He Could Check the Boom—Put Forth by Platt and Backed by Quay.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The long advertised stampede for Roosevelt for the vice presidential nomination was such as to indicate that it probably can not be checked. Nothing but a positive declaration from Governor Roosevelt that he would not accept the nomination after it was made would stop it and he will not make that declaration.

Looking to the future, Governor Roosevelt and his friends realize that the declination of a popular and enthusiastic nomination for vice president, may be with the idea that it will contribute to the success of the party in the campaign, would no doubt mean political oblivion.

It is accepted by leaders that Roosevelt was sincere in his emphatic declarations that he would not accept and was not a candidate, but he now realizes that the political movement to force the nomination upon him has reached a point beyond his control.

From the very beginning Senator Hanna declared that the president was not taking any part in the selection of his running mate, and the senator gave no indication of his own choice. He had favored Mr. Bliss, but he announced upon his arrival here that for personal reasons Bliss could not accept.

While Roosevelt admitted that the situation looked as if he would be forced into a nomination, he was hoping that such would not be the case and was using every effort to change the sentiment. He said:

"My place is at the head of the ticket in New York state. I feel that Mr. Hanna is right, and that I can do more to help Mr. McKinley by running in New York state than by being on the national ticket."

Roosevelt's appearance in the Hotel Walton raised the enthusiasm of the people in the corridor to a high pitch.

Platt had declared against Bliss and Hanna would not accept Woodruff. Upon this rock the two leaders split. Platt, backed by Pennsylvania, pressed upon Roosevelt's candidacy.

Governor Roosevelt said that he was sanguine that he could overcome the sentiment in his favor and convince the delegates that it was for President McKinley's best interests to have him stay in New York as a candidate for governor.

The Dolliver people were unshaken in their confidence that their man had an excellent chance for the vice presidency even when the Roosevelt boom is taken into consideration. They based their hopes upon the assumption that Governor Roosevelt would, in the end, decline to accept the nomination or to have it forced upon him.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—A movement was gotten under way here booming Roosevelt for the vice presidency. The Pennsylvania delegation, those that were here, met and it was soon announced that the state delegation had taken a positive position for the governor for the second place on the ticket.

This announcement was soon followed by the statement which was made upon excellent authority, that Colonel Quay and Platt and others are in sympathy with him had held conference and had decided upon a campaign which was intended to bring Roosevelt to the front as a candidate, stampede the convention for him and force his acceptance of the nomination.

Among others who were taken into the confidence of Quay and Platt was General John P. Elkin, the leader of the Quay forces in the state also declared for Roosevelt.

Senator Allison announced that he was earnestly supporting the candidacy of Mr. Dolliver and that he hoped to see him nominated for the vice presidency.

In the event that the New Yorkers agree upon some available candidate the Iowa men will not press Dolliver's nomination. They say New York should have the first call upon the nomination if it can decide upon a man. If it does not agree upon this point and the Iowa people did not rate Woodruff as an available man, they will push for the nomination of Dolliver against any and all candidates. They were said to be confident that Dolliver will be able to beat Woodruff before the convention and will be a strong candidate before the people at large.

The Massachusetts delegation took steps to get into direct telephone communication with Secretary Long to ascertain that Quay still remembered the fact that the Ohio senator had cast his influence against him in his recent effort to secure his old seat in the senate gubernatorial appointment. Quay did not admit the truth of these statements, saying there were broader reasons for nominating Roosevelt.

It was also asserted by those in position to know that Roosevelt's acceptance in case of his nomination was assured, but this was not put upon stronger grounds than that Senator Platt had given this assurance. There can be no doubt, however, regardless of Roosevelt's own position, that he is to be the Platt-Quay candidate and they feel safe in the confidence that he will not decline the office if it is forced upon him.

The development of the movement in Roosevelt's behalf had the effect of bringing former Secretary Bliss conspicuously forward as the opposing candidate, and the fact was announced by those very close to him that he would accept if nominated. From the first Senator Hanna and his followers have advocated the nomination of either Bliss or Allison.

The latter has made his own declination absolutely unequivocal, thus forcing Bliss to the front despite his own disinclination to accept the position.

Mr. Bliss repeated his desire to be relieved of the responsibility, but his friends left him with the knowledge that if the nomination should be tendered it would not be declined.

"I don't want to say that I will not accept before the tender is made, for that would be premature," he said. "but I do say, for the hundredth time, that I hope the right man will be found for the place and that I will not be asked to serve. On the other hand," he added, after no little entreaty, "I will not say that if nominated I would decline. I know of no American who has ever declined so high an office, and I shall not say that I would do so."

The Pennsylvania delegation will meet this afternoon when, it is understood, a resolution will be adopted declaring for Roosevelt. It is stated that at least 58 of the 64 delegates from this state will be for Roosevelt. Colonel Quay gave an interview to The Associated Press in which he said: "I do not know what Pennsylvania will do, as all of the delegates have not yet arrived here.

"I have looked over the situation and find there is nothing else in view except the election of McKinley. I intend to vote for Governor Roosevelt for vice president. The election or defeat of McKinley is a question of 500,000,000 of dollars to Pennsylvania and I will cast my votes on the vice presidency in the interest of my state to strengthen McKinley.

"I know nothing at all about what is going to happen in the convention. This is merely my individual view."

In connection with the movement among the Pennsylvanians to "further the nomination of Roosevelt, Attorney

Long has wishes concerning the vice presidential situation. This last move was regarded as rather significant. The delegation is to a man strongly favorable to the secretary, and it was believed that co-operation could be secured with the delegations of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island, so as to secure a practically solid vote of the 78 New England delegates.

So many combinations and possibilities were in the air, however, that a committee, consisting of Messrs. Shaw, Murray and Rockwell, was chosen to ascertain Mr. Long's wishes as to the presentation of his name. It was supposed he was at Washington and could be reached by long distance phone, but later it developed that he was at his summer home at Hingham, Mass., where it was hoped to communicate with him later. The delegation was also divided up into committees, which started on canvasses in behalf of the Long candidacy.

The West Virginians were determined to present one of their senators as a vice presidential candidate. Senator Scott first proposed a boom for his colleague, Mr. Elkins, but a strong sentiment began to manifest itself at the West Virginia headquarters. The delegation at least wants to place one of them in nomination and compliment him with the state's vote. After that there is no definite choice thus far, although the tendencies are toward Roosevelt or some other eastern candidate.

D. M. Ferry, of the Michigan delegation, had not decided who to support for the vice presidency. There was, however, a strong sentiment among the Michigan men for Dolliver.

The Nebraska sentiment developed quite strongly in favor of Senator Fairbanks' vice presidential candidacy, and such influential members of the delegation as Senator Thurston and Editor Rosewater regarding the Indiana man as particularly strong for the place.

The platform has been framed.

It holds providence responsible for the Spanish war and the annexation of "our newly acquired territory," and promises Porto Rico and the Philippines a liberal measure of home rule as rapidly as the people are fit to exercise it. It pledges Cuban independence under a protectorate by this government as soon as the political conditions on that island will permit. It asserts that the financial question and the tariff are out of politics, and that the people of this country owe their property to the protection of their industries, to a stable currency and a single gold standard of value provided for them by the Republican party.

The instrument is of considerable length. It begins by calling attention to the promises that were made in the St. Louis convention of 1896, and after enumerating them, declares that faith has been kept in almost every instance, as is shown by the statutes which the last Congress added to the laws of the country. Special attention is called to the fact that the platform of 1896 promised that the country should be put upon the gold standard and that this pledge has been faithfully maintained. There is a clear and distinct declaration for the maintenance of this standard, and the resolutions as so far proposed make no reference to bimetallism. The resolutions also contain the declaration for a protective tariff.

The plank on the Philippines is practically in the language of the President's message, promising the restoration of order and the establishment of authority in the islands and the granting of local self-government so soon as the Filipinos show that they are prepared for it.

On the question of trusts the platform recognizes the right of capital to combine for industrial purposes, but condemns all conspiracies in restraint of trade and the limitation of prices.

There will be a declaration for an Isthmian canal rather than for a canal via the Nicaragua route specifically, pending the report of the commission appointed to investigate. A demand will be made for the condign punishment of crimes committed by American officials in Cuba. Legislation for the restoration of the merchant marine will be endorsed.

There is a proposition to at least express the hope, with reference to China, that that empire shall not be dismembered.

A demand will be made for the protection of American missionaries and other Americans in China.

The President's policy with reference to the Philippines is endorsed throughout, and his conduct of the war with Spain is upheld in the strongest terms of commendation and praise. The President's course on the Boer-British entanglement is also endorsed and attention is called to the fact that under his guidance the United States has been the only nation to offer mediation between the warring nations.

The President also comes in for praise because of his attitude in The Hague peace conference, and the administration is especially commended for its position and its accomplishment in the matter of an open door in China.

NOT SOUGHT BY LONG.

Declared He Would Make No Aggressive Campaign For Vice Presidency.

BOSTON, June 18.—Secretary of the Navy Long, who with his wife arrived at his home in Hingham, said in part in regard to the vice presidential nomination:

"I have ever maintained that the office is one which should not be sought. I have not done a thing to further my candidacy in any way. I have never mentioned the subject to a person unless it were broached to me, and I have not yet become an aggressive candidate."

Asked if he would commence an aggressive campaign, he replied:

"No."

He further said that while Mr. Hanna may have his own candidate, he believed that the delegates will be entirely independent in the matter.

CANTON, O., June 18.—A special train on the Pennsylvania road leaves Canton today bearing 200 of the friends and neighbors of President McKinley, bound for Philadelphia to participate in the demonstrations attending the national convention. NATIVE CHRISTIANS KILLED NEAR PEKIN.
CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL BURNED—MISSION BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

LONDON, June 18.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times, in a dispatch dated June 14, via Tsin Tsin, June 15, said:

"A serious anti-foreign outbreak took place last night, when some of the finest buildings in the eastern part of the city were burned and hundreds of native Christians and servants employed by foreigners were massacred within two miles of the imperial palace.

"It was an anxious night for all foreigners, who were collected under the protection of the foreign guards. The Boxers burned the Roman Catholic East cathedral, the large buildings of the Blondon mission and the American board of missions and also the buildings in the western part of the city occupied by the foreign employees of the maritime customs.

"If the troops to reinforce the foreign guards fail to arrive today, further riots are expected. It is believed that no European has been injured."

TO ARREST TAYLOR.

Believed Attempt Will Be Made at Philadelphia—Promised Protection In Pennsylvania.

FRANKFORT, KY., June 18.—The state officials, as well as representatives of the prosecution, would neither affirm nor deny the report that requisitions on governors of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania for the arrest of W. S. Taylor have been made in anticipation of his trip through those states to the national convention. It was the general belief here that the attempt to arrest him would be made in Philadelphia.

A number of persons in this state wrote to Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, urging him to follow the position taken by Governor Mount in the event Taylor was arrested. Governor Taylor's friends said they had assurances from leading Republicans of Pittsburg that a requisition would not be honored in that state.

WANTED THE TRUTH.

Census Enumerator Objected to a Statement Given Him by a Young Lady.

An amusing story is told on one of the census enumerators who has just finished his work. He called at a Third street house to interview a young lady. The parents of the young lady are English, but she was born in Paris. She answered all the questions of the enumerator in an intelligent manner and when he asked her where she was born she promptly replied Paris. The enumerator looked at her and said: "Look here young lady, I don't want any foolishness. I want to know where you were born." She answered: "I was born in Paris." The enumerator then got mad, and, showing his badge said: "I want you to understand that I am a United States officer, and if you don't answer my questions I will have you arrested. I want the truth and nothing but the truth, and am going to have it." The lady replied that she was telling the truth and finally the enumerator accepted her statement and put her down as being born in Paris.

HOW TO DIG COAL.

Attorney A. H. Clark and Joe Turnbull Had a Contest at Salineville.

Attorney A. H. Clark last week demonstrated to some of his friends that he had not forgot how to dig coal. A wager was laid that Joe Turnbull could dig more coal in 10 minutes than Clark could. Last Friday evening the contestants and a few of their friends went to Salineville and were taken down in the slope mine, where the contest took place. The attorney had no trouble in carrying off the honors.

STAR BARGAIN STORE ON FIRE

Blaze Discovered In the Cellar of the Harvey Building on Fifth This Morning.

THE ORIGIN IS A MYSTERY

Supposed to Have Started Among Canton Flannel by Spontaneous Combustion.

EXCITING SCENES FOR A TIME

A fire broke out in the basement of the Star Bargain store this forenoon about 10:30 o'clock. The fire department responded quickly to the call, and by their prompt and skillful action put out a blaze which might have caused great damage had it been given an opportunity to spread.

The fire originated in the basement on a hanging shelf containing canton flannels. This shelf extends from the rear of the basement to the furnace near the center of the building. There had been no fire in the furnace for over three months and no gas jet in that part of the basement was lighted. The cause of the fire was probably spontaneous combustion.

Smoke was discovered coming through a hole in the floor in the rear of the store. George Grim seized a bucket of water and went into the cellar to find the entire shelf containing the canton flannels ablaze. The fire spread rapidly, much of the goods stored in the cellar being very combustible. Clouds of smoke filled the store rooms and poured out through every opening, driving nearly everyone from the scene except the firemen, who went into the basement to fight the flames. George Wilhelm lives over the store and his wife, who was lying sick, had to be carried from the building and was taken to the home of W. E. Lytle, who lives across the street.

The building is owned by John Harvey. Wasbutzky Bros., proprietors of the store, had a small blaze in the store less than three weeks ago, when the damage was slight compared to the loss by this fire.

It was not long before the department had the fire under control. The Babcocks were not brought into use, as Chief Morley saw that the fire had too much of a start for them to be of any effect.

The building was damaged to a slight extent, $100 will probably fully cover the loss on the building. The contents of the store were fully covered with insurance. The loss of Wasbutzky Bros. is not known, but is estimated at about $600.

KILNDRAWERS PLAYED.

The National China Company Men Defeated the Laughlin No. 2 Aggregation.

The kilndrawers of the National China company and the kilndrawers of the Laughlin No. 2 plant played a very interesting ball game last Saturday afternoon. The National China company kilndrawers won the game by a score of 22 to 11.

Was Returned.

Mrs. Hamilton Gaston, in returning from East Liverpool today, lost her pocketbook containing about $9.00.

After she had left the train Conductor Coleman found it and it was returned to her.—Toronto Tribune.

RICHARD REDDICK.

The Wonderful Age of This Man Duly Authenticated.

Superintendent E. R. Riddle, of the Columbiana county infirmary, has now in his possession papers which show that Richard Reddick, the colored man who lately died at the infirmary, was really 123 years of age at the time of his death. The record shows as follows:

"Richard Reddick, born July 4, 1777, died June 11, 1900."

The papers spoken of are the freedom papers of deceased, he having been a slave for many years of his life.

The writer had the privilege of a conversation with Mr. Reddick a few days before his death, and the patriarch had no shadow of doubt of the future and of his inheritance in a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens, through the wondrous mercy of the Master and the atoning blood of the Saviour. Mrs. Reddick is now an inmate of the infirmary, expresses herself as content in the will of the Master, and states that she has the full assurance that she shall meet her husband in the sweet bye and bye in that beautiful city of God.

CLARK TO TALK HERE SUNDAY

Author of the Famous Clark Local Option Bill to Speak In East Liverpool.

WAS AT WELLSVILLE YESTERDAY

And Delivered an Address on the Past and Future of the Defeated Bill.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

The union temperance meeting held at the United Presbyterian church, Wellsville, yesterday afternoon was a big success. The principal speaker was Hon. T. W. Clark, author of the famous Clark local option bill which attracted so much attention during the last session of the legislature. There was a large audience and a large speech. Mr. Clark gave the meeting a good, straight forward talk, without bitterness or extravagance, and made many friends for the cause by his clear and comprehensive statement of his position. The previous Sunday he spoke at Canton and interested a large audience. At the recent state Sunday school convention, held at Akron, he held an audience of over 2,000 for two hours. He is the first politician of note to take the platform for straight temperance, and is now speaking each Sunday mainly at county seats. He will be in East Liverpool next Sunday and will address a union temperance meeting in the First Presbyterian church at 3 p. m.

Mr. Clark spoke at Wellsville on the "Past and Future of the Clark Local Option Bill." He said the defeat at the last legislature was only a temporary defeat; that he or somebody else would introduce the same bill at the next legislature and so on ad infinitum until it became a law. He dwelt upon the perfect fairness of the measure and the reasonableness of giving residents of each ward the right to say whether or not they should have saloons in their district. There was nothing extravagant or radical in the proposal and it was drafted in accordance with true American principles, and had its basis in the idea of government by the people.

Mr. Clark was followed by Dr. J. C. Jackson, assistant national secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, and by G. Y. Raynor, assistant state secretary. In introducing Mr. Raynor the chairman said he was probably the most hated man in Ohio. During the past 18 months he has been mobbed three times, shot at twice and jailed once. He made an interesting talk, his crisp, bright remarks arousing the audience to enthusiastic interest.

INJUNCTION CASE.

Evidence in Cases Will be Taken Here Some Time During This Week.

The street railway injunction cases were not heard at Lisbon last Saturday. Evidence in the cases will be taken in this city this week in order to do away with the expense of taking witnesses to Lisbon. The evidence in the cases will then be submitted and arguments made to Judge Hole.

IS INSANE FROM CIGARETTES

Well Known Young Man of Salem Became Violent and Was Adjudged Insane.

TO BE TAKEN TO MASSILLON

Probate Judge Boone Examines Him and Orders His Commitment Saturday

NOW IN THE INFIRMARY

Salem, June 18.—(Special)—Edward Scott, an unfortunate young man supposed to be insane, was examined in this city by Probate Judge Boone and Dr. A. C. Yenling and declared to be insane. Deputy Sheriffs Chris Bick and Howard Noragon, of Lisbon, conveyed Scott to the county jail. He was taken to the infirmary Saturday, where he will remain until admission papers have been made out and he has been accepted by the Massillon hospital authorities. He will be taken to the asylum Wednesday or Thursday.

Scott is about 26 years old, well dressed and well known to the greater part of Salem. His parents are dead. He worked at the nail mill before it shut down. He then went about the country looking for work at his trade, he being a nailer. He failed to find such work and went to Sebring, where his brother, O. B. Scott, resides.

Some weeks ago Scott had signs of mental weakness and his brother took him to Cleveland, where he went through a short course of treatment. Later he returned to Sebring and then came to Salem. He has been gradually going down for some time past.

Friday O. B. Scott came here to see Ed, who has been staying at Mrs. Irwin's boarding house on West Dry street. Saturday morning Ed jumped through a door and said he was afraid "they" would kill him. Officer Bush was summoned and he brought the unfortunate man up town and locked him up.

O. B. Scott says his brother's condition is due to cigarette smoking, worrying over financial troubles, social and religious affairs.

Dr. A. W. Schiller examined Scott and pronounced his case of a serious nature. He is easily startled, uneasy and has a loss of memory, as well as being suspicious of everybody.

We don't want you to think that because we advertise our fancy check and striped suits, that we have no others, as there is no goods in the market that is worth having, but what you can get, and at the lowest prices to be had in our city.

SIDE PATH COMMISSION.

Salem Cyclists Ask Judge Boone to Give This County One Under the New Law.

Salem cyclists have interested themselves in the matter of sidepaths in the county to the extent that they have prepared a petition which is to be forwarded to Judge Boone of the probate court at Lisbon, praying for the appointment of a bicycle sidepath commission under the DeRan law enacted at the late session of the legislature. Those who signed the petition are W. H. Matthews, H. E. Phillips, C. S. Carr, W. J. Clark and R. P. Trimble, the law requiring the probate judge to make the appointment of a commission upon the petition of five cyclists. Salem will be the first to act under the law, as nothing has so far been done in this county, although many other counties in the state have taken advantage of the new law.

GRANDVIEW.

The finest residence addition ever made to East Liverpool is situated on the east side of the Calcutta Road just north of the McKinnon Homestead and within 10 minutes walk of the Diamond.

City Water Mains are laid throughout this addition.

Gas will be piped to this addition in a few weeks.

Street Car Line is being constructed and will run through Grandview.

Paved Street and Sidewalks and Electric Light extends from the city to within one block of Grandview.

From the numerous inquiries as to when these lots would be placed in the market there is no doubt but that the limited number of lots in the plat now offered the public will be sold in a short time. There are good, solid and substantial reasons for this demand for lots in Grandview--beautiful for situation--magnificent views of the Ohio Valley--above the smoke and fog--within easy reach of the city. Do you want to own your own home? Do you want to quit paying rent? Then Grandview is the place for you to save your rent money and let it buy you a home. See how easy we make it for you.

IS INSANE FROM CIGARETTES

Well Known Young Man of Salem Became Violent and Was Adjudged Insane.

TO BE TAKEN TO MASSILLON

Probate Judge Boone Examines Him and Orders His Commitment Saturday

NOW IN THE INFIRMARY

Salem, June 18.—(Special.)—Edward Scott, an unfortunate young man supposed to be insane, was examined in this city by Probate Judge Boone and Dr. A. C. Yenling and declared to be insane. Deputy Sheriffs Chris Bick and Howard Noragon, of Lisbon, conveyed Scott to the county jail. He was taken to the infirmary Saturday, where he will remain until admission papers have been made out and he has been accepted by the Massillon hospital authorities. He will be taken to the asylum Wednesday or Thursday.

Scott is about 26 years old, well dressed and well known to the greater part of Salem. His parents are dead. He worked at the nail mill before it shut down. He then went about the country looking for work at his trade, he being a nailer. He failed to find such work and went to Sebring, where his brother, O. B. Scott, resides.

Some weeks ago Scott had signs of mental weakness and his brother took him to Cleveland, where he went through a short course of treatment. Later he returned to Sebring and then came to Salem. He has been gradually going down for some time past.

Friday O. B. Scott came here to see Ed, who has been staying at Mrs. Irwin's boarding house on West Dry street. Saturday morning Ed jumped through a door and said he was afraid "they" would kill him. Officer Bush was summoned and he brought the unfortunate man up town and locked him up.

O. B. Scott says his brother's condition is due to cigarette smoking, worrying over financial troubles, social and religious affairs.

Dr. A. W. Schiller examined Scott and pronounced his case of a serious nature. He is easily startled, uneasy and has a loss of memory, as well as being suspicious of everybody.

Salem Cyclists Ask Judge Boone to Give This County One Under the New Law.

Salem cyclists have interested themselves in the matter of sidepaths in the county to the extent that they have prepared a petition which is to be forwarded to Judge Boone of the probate court at Lisbon, praying for the appointment of a bicycle sidepath commission under the DeRan law enacted at the late session of the legislature.

Those who signed the petition are W. H. Matthews, H. E. Phillips, C. S. Carr, W. J. Clark and R. P. Trimble, the law requiring the probate judge to make the appointment of a commission upon the petition of five cyclists. The Democrats of Grant district met in the Chester school house Saturday evening for the purpose of nominating district officers and electing delegates to the county convention being held at New Cumberland this afternoon. The meeting had a fair attendance and the selections were made very harmoniously. Harry Finley was nominated for constable, John Bunting, of Congo, received the nomination for justice of the peace, and J. W. Mills for member of the school board. J. W. Finley and I. F. Allison were elected by acclamation to serve as delegates to the county convention. They received no instructions, but it is understood that their votes for sheriff will be for C. A. Allison, the candidate from Grant district. A strong sentiment was expressed in favor of Mr. Allison, as the Democrats of the district believe he can be elected if he receives the nomination.

The ball game at Rock Springs Saturday between the Burford and Laughlin No. 1 teams was not a "thing of beauty or joy forever" by any means, and was an unusually ragged contest.

Burfords made two runs in the first inning on a base on balls, two hit by pitched balls and a wild pitch. Laughlins scored one on three hits.

In the second both teams were shut out, but in the fourth Burfords made four on three errors by Headley, Seely and Bennett and one by Webb. Laughlins made one in their half on errors by Callahan and Robinson and a double by Webb.

In the fourth Burfords made three more on three singles and an error by Headley. Laughlins scored six in this half on three singles, a triple, a fielder's choice, a base on balls and errors by Hester and Shell.

Burfords made one in the fifth on a single and errors by Headley and Cooley. Laughlins also scored one in their half on a single, a hit by pitched ball and a fielder's choice.

In the sixth Burfords made four on errors by Roberts and Finch, one wild pitch, a single and a double. Laughlins made one in their half on errors by Lounds and Emmerling.

In the seventh both teams got a shut out, but in the eighth Burfords made three more on errors by Bennett and Finch and a single. Laughlins got shut out in the eighth and ninth. The score:

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1900.

This Date In History—June 18.

1778—The British evacuated Philadelphia.

1812—Congress declared war against Great Britain.

President Madison sent his war message to Congress June 1, and two days later the committee on foreign relations in the house of representatives reported a manifesto as a basis of the declaration of war for these reasons: The impression of American men by the commanders of British ships of war, the British doctrine and system of blockade, the orders in council, and, lastly, various depositions committed by British subjects on the commerce of the United States. The house adopted the measure, then the senate, and on June 18 the president signed the act declaring war.

1815—Battle of Waterloo.

1864—Bishop Matthew Simpson died in Philadelphia; born in Cadiz, O., 1811.

1894—William Hart, N. A., a well known painter, died at Mount Vernon, N. Y.; born 1822.

1807—John M. Francis, editor of the Troy Times and formerly United States minister to Greece, Portugal and Austria, died in Troy, N. Y.; born 1823.

WILL IT BE ROOSEVELT?

The New Yorker seems to be in the saddle, and to have the second place on the ticket of the Republican party if he so desires. He may accept, and again he may not accept. It would make a strong ticket, and the Rough Rider's name would aid McKinley in receiving a still greater majority than that which he is already booked for. Possibly our Democratic friends, under such circumstances, may withdraw from the contest and declare McKinley and Roosevelt the choice of the nation by acclamation.

MAYOR'S COURT.

FOUR PEOPLE CONTRIBUTE TO THE POLICE PAYROLL.

Mrs. Gourley Slept on Lincoln Avenue—Some Plain Drunks Also in Evidence.

Business in police court was very good Saturday and Monday and four victims were gathered in to help furnish the city with cash to run the department.

Mrs. Daniel Gourley was the first victim and when Officer Aufderheide found her she was using Lincoln avenue as a sleeping place, contrary to the laws and ordinances of the city. Mrs. Gourley received a cordial invitation to accompany the officer to the city jail. She accepted the invitation, but failed to thank the officer for his treatment of her. When they arrived at city hall she was given a cell in the ladies' department and when she faced the mayor she was turned out. She made a piteous plea and shed copious tears and the mayor decided to give her another chance.

Terry Alcock went into George Parry's saloon on Second street Saturday night. Alcock made himself obnoxious and the proprietor put him out in a forcible manner. Gill made the arrest and Alcock paid the city the sum of $5 and costs.

Jack Sharp was not as sharp as his name would indicate and he loaded up with bad liquor yesterday. The sharp eye of Officer McDonald discovered Sharp and he was arrested and given a ride to the county jail. He put up security for his appearance and will call on the mayor this evening and find out how much it costs to get drunk in the city.

A telephone message was received at city hall yesterday stating that there was a drunken man in the alley in the rear of the opera house. Chief Thompson sent Officer Dawson to look after him. The officer returned with his prisoner and he is still in jail awaiting a hearing. His name is Chilvers.

WATERFORDS WON.

Eclipse Nine Lost the Game by 9 to 8,
But It Was a Dandy,
Good One.

The Eclipse base ball team went to New Waterford last Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the team of that village by a score of 9 to 8. The Eclipse boys played good ball and their defeat was due to the splendid work of Folk, an outfielder of the New Waterford team, who made a phenomenal one-hand catch of a ball hit by Barker. He also batted very hard. The score:

R. H. E.
Eclipse 8 16 4
New Waterford 9 16 5

Batteries—Ashbaugh and Millward; Betz and Weeks.

The teams lined up as follows:

Eclipse—Millward, catcher; Ashbaugh, pitcher; Barker, short; Gibson, first; Heckathorne, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Daugherty, right.

DISPUTE BETWEEN OWNERS

THAT'S WHAT IRONSIDES' TROU-BLE NOW AMOUNTS TO.

Allen Comes Back at Cochran and Gives His Side of the Case an Airing.

True American.

Trenton, June 18.—The Ironsides pottery trouble has become a dispute between owners of the property.

Mr. Cochran's side of the story, that he and Mr. Allen control a majority of the stock, would undoubtedly be true if he and Mr. Allen were working together, but they are not. Mr. Allen says Mr. Cochran was the man who made the agreement Sunday week that the men should go to work at their own terms, but Mr. Allen says he never gave his consent. He says he told the committee that he could not approve the agreement, right then and there.

Mr. Allen, in conversation with a True American reporter, says that the men were getting 13 days for kilns. An agreement, a copy of which was shown, was made April 19 of this year. The men, however, later on asked 16½, etc. Mr. Allen says the directors consented to meet the men half way, and give them 14½ days and to deliver all ware delivered on bench to them, but that the men refuse this compromise.

Mr. Allen says that neither he nor Mr. Cochran has power to settle with the men, for there are three others who are to be consulted. The board of directors is the body that has the right. The board is not at odds, but is acting as a unit. Mr. Allen says there is no uniform scale in existence for placing sanitary ware, no two potteries paying alike.

The board met and decided not to agree to the demands, and to employ any workmen who present themselves, with the intention of withdrawing from the Brotherhood and forming a union of their own, unless settlement is made at once on terms offered.

Unique Announcement.

Canton is going to have one of the greatest Fourth of July celebrations ever held in this section. The dedication of the Spanish cannon, trophy of the Spanish-American war, will be the chief feature of the exercises, in which a number of the most prominent men in the United States will take part. President McKinley is expected home for the Fourth.

The committee in charge have sent out the following press notice:

"As in the spring time the cataracts leap down from the mountains, and the streams rush out from the valleys, and the rivers roll on to the sea, so will the people gather from the hills and valleys, the towns and villages, the cities and counties, to participate in and see the great Fourth of July celebration at Canton, O."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1900.

This Date In History—June 18.

1776—The British evacuated Philadelphia.

1803—Congress declared war against Great Britain.

President Madison sent his war message to Congress June 1, and two days later the committee on foreign relations in the house of representatives reported a manifesto as a basis of the declaration of war for these reasons: The impression of American men by the commanders of British ships of war, the British doctrine and system of blockade, the orders in council, and, lastly, various depredations committed by British subjects on the commerce of the United States. The house adopted the measure, then the senate, and on June 18 the president signed the act declaring war.

1815—Battle of Waterloo.

1804—Bishop Matthew Simpson died in Philadelphia; born in Cadiz, O., 1811.

1804—William Hart, N. A., a well known painter, died at Mount Vernon, N. Y.; born 1822.

1807—John M. Francis, editor of the Troy Times and formerly United States minister to Greece, Portugal and Austria, died in Troy, N. Y.; born 1823.

WILL IT BE ROOSEVELT?

The New Yorker seems to be in the saddle, and to have the second place on the ticket of the Republican party if he so desires. He may accept, and again he may not accept. It would make a strong ticket, and the Rough Rider's name would aid McKinley in receiving a still greater majority than that which he is already booked for. Possibly our Democratic friends, under such circumstances, may withdraw from the contest and declare McKinley and Roosevelt the choice of the nation by acclamation.

MAYOR'S COURT.

FOUR PEOPLE CONTRIBUTE TO THE POLICE PAYROLL.

Mrs. Gourley Slept on Lincoln Avenue—Some Plain Drunks Also in Evidence.

Business in police court was very good Saturday and Monday and four victims were gathered in to help furnish the city with cash to run the department.

Mrs. Daniel Gourley was the first victim and when Officer Aufderheide found her she was using Lincoln avenue as a sleeping place, contrary to the laws and ordinances of the city. Mrs. Gourley received a cordial invitation to accompany the officer to the city jail. She accepted the invitation, but failed to thank the officer for his treatment of her. When they arrived at city hall she was given a cell in the ladies' department and when she faced the mayor she was turned out. She made a piteous plea and shed copious tears and the mayor decided to give her another chance.

Terry Alcock went into George Parry's saloon on Second street Saturday night. Alcock made himself obnoxious and the proprietor put him out in a forcible manner. Gill made the arrest and Alcock paid the city the sum of $5 and costs.

Jack Sharp was not as sharp as his name would indicate and he loaded up with bad liquor yesterday. The sharp eye of Officer McDonald discovered Sharp and he was arrested and given a ride to the county jail. He put up security for his appearance and will call on the mayor this evening and find out how much it costs to get drunk in the city.

A telephone message was received at city hall yesterday stating that there was a drunken man in the alley in the rear of the opera house. Chief Thompson sent Officer Dawson to look after him. The officer returned with his prisoner and he is still in jail awaiting a hearing. His name is Chidlers.

WATERFORDS WON.

Eclipse Nine Lost the Game by 9 to 8,
But It Was a Dandy,
Good One.

The Eclipse base ball team went to New Waterford last Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the team of that village by a score of 9 to 8. The Eclipse boys played good ball and their defeat was due to the splendid work of Folk, an outfielder of the New Waterford team, who made a phenomenal one-hand catch of a ball hit by Barker. He also batted very hard. The score:

R. H. E.
Eclipse 8 16 4
New Waterford 9 16 5

Batteries—Ashbaugh and Millward; Betz and Weeks.

The teams lined up as follows:

Eclipse—Millward, catcher; Ashbaugh, pitcher; Barker, short; Gibson, first; Heckathorne, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Daugherty, right.

New Waterford—Meeks, catcher; Betz, pitcher; Brimlow, short; Lyons, first; Broadbent, second; Vanfossan, third; Foulk, left; Esterly, middle; Bretts, right.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Met With Committeeman Josiah T. Smith, of Council, This Morning and Prepared a

DRAFT OF SALOON ORDINANCE

Proposals Being Made In Some Quarters to Have People Vote on the Issue.

COUNCIL MUST ACT ON IT FIRST

The East Liverpool and Wellsville Ministerial association met in this city this morning in conformity with the action of council at its last meeting, when President Marshall appointed a committee of three from that body, J. T. Smith, O. D. Nice and George Peach, to confer with the members of the ministerial association in regard to drafting an ordinance for the abolition of the saloon in this city.

Councilmen Nice and Peach found it impossible to be present and Chairman Smith was the only member of the committee of council present. The full ministerial association was in attendance.

The ordinance drafted at the meeting will be presented to council at the proper time in due form and drafted in such a manner and by such authority that legal quibbles will be useless in case the ordinance is passed by the representative body of our city.

It is understood that the backers of the ministerial association are legion, that they are intensely in earnest and that they intend to bring this matter to an issue and place our councilmanic body on record. There is a possibility that every member of council will vote for the passage of the ordinance, and that the saloon will be banished from our municipality.

We have it from reliable authority that one member of council, fearful of the results, vote as he may, is warmly advocating the idea of the submission of the issue of "saloons or no saloons" to the vote of the people, so that the members of council may be directed and guided to act in conformity with the wishes of the majority. The wish of the people, however, has been expressed on three different occasions in this city and the people have decided against the saloon each time, only to be treated with contempt by former councilmanic bodies, and the saloon still controls in the city.

This time, however, we understand that the ministerial ordinance will be acted upon and the councilmen placed on record, and that then, if they fail to exclude the saloons further measures will be taken looking towards ousting the liquor traffic by law.

As we have stated before, in the News Review, the battle is on to a finish and the great mass of the people of the city of East Liverpool will be given an opportunity to say whether or not they desire the saloon to remain with us.

AFFECTED 20,000 WORKPEOPLE

Efforts In the Interests of Industrial Harmony Won Out In the Finish.

DETAILS OF HOW IT WAS DONE

We are pleased to announce that the unhappy dispute which has so long prevailed in the earthenware trade, and which has affected the labor of upwards of 20,000 workpeople—men and women—has been settled, says the Pottery Gazette of June 1. The suspense which existed when we went to press with our last issue has been maintained until Monday last, when it was relieved by an arrangement which admitted of a resumption of work, which took place on Tuesday morning. On Saturday last the manufacturers had a long interview with the representatives of the workers, at which they offered a definite increase of 5 per cent in wages to commence from October 1, and at the same time gave an understanding that individual grievances should be redressed. These conditions were submitted to a mass meeting of workpeople held at Hanley on Monday morning by the reading of the following resolution passed at the conference on Saturday.

"The manufacturers having again met the operatives' executives, and further discussed the matter in difference, and in order to put an end to the unfortunate dispute, agree to give advance asked for—5 per cent from first of October next. All works will be opened on Tuesday next. At the same time the manufacturers again repeat their promise that all individual grievances shall be referred to the committee on conciliation at the earliest possible moment."

The men were well advised in accepting these terms unanimously. The assembly was one of the largest ever held in the trade, and when the chairman put the question as to the acceptance of the masters' offer, every hand was held up in favor of it. It would, in our opinion, have been monstrous on the part of the employees if it had been otherwise. We are sincere in expressing our satisfaction that the trouble has ended, and we trust that the establishment of the committee on conciliation will prevent any repetition of it for a long time to come. In our last issue (as in many previous issues) we urged the desirability of establishing either an arbitration board or a conciliation board, to which both employers and workers in the potteries might refer their differences. We are pleased to see that an attempt is to be made to do this. While we congratulate all parties on the settlement of their differences, by the acceptance on the part of the men of the offer made by the employers, we do not propose at this moment to discuss the question as to whether the employers were, strictly speaking, commercially justified in making that offer. We do not expect all who have been championing the cause of the men to believe it, but we happen to know that the offer was made purely in the interests of industrial harmony. It ought to be received, and we are sure hundreds of intelligent workers will receive it, as a benevolent concession in a painful crisis, rather than an admission that the employers have hitherto been seeking to obtain terms which were not justifiable, and were on that account abandoned. In the excitement of the apparent "victory" over the employers we can understand the men's leaders applauding "the tenacity and strength of mind and will" of the workers. In the settlement of trade differences other virtues are desirable besides tenacity, and fortunately for the workers the employers have not only possessed but have, we venture to say, generously exercised them.

Those fine, split braid straw hats that we bought last week from one of the best manufacturers of the country, are big sellers. We only have 83 more hats left. If you want to take advantage of them, now is the time, as we have all sizes left at present, but we can't tell how long they will last. Prices $2 and $2.50.

PERPLEXING PROBLEMS

Involved in the Settlement of the Snodgrass Estates Now In County Courts.

Lisbon, June 18.—(Special)—The court will be called upon to answer some difficult and perplexing questions which have arisen under the petition filed Saturday by Ross W. Firestone, as administrator of the estate of John K. Snodgrass, against James Charters, as administrator of the Susan Snodgrass estate, and about 50 other defendants. When John Snodgrass died in '54, he willed his entire estate, consisting of a 70 acre farm just east of this city, and personal property, to his wife, Susan Snodgrass, to be hers during her life time. It was also provided that she should dispose of $3,000 of the valuation of the farm by will or otherwise as she saw fit, and at her death, when the farm was sold the residue after that was to go to Dr. James Snodgrass, Mrs. Mary Steele, Mrs. Jane Rhodes and Mrs. Ann Snodgrass, sisters and brothers of the deceased. Several months ago she died leaving a will and according to the terms of her husband's will the plaintiff secured an order of sale from the probate court for the farm which he sold for $3,850. Perplexing questions then arose as to who should be the proper party to distribute the amount among the heirs to the two estates and the creditors, and the plaintiff determined that, owing to these conflicting claims, he could not safely pay out any of the sum without the direction of the court.

We received this week 143 more of those fine "fancy check and striped English worsted suits, strictly all wool. They are beauties and you must not fail to see them, if you want a nice, nobby, dress suit.

U.S. TROOPS FOR CHINA

Ninth Regiment Ordered to Manila.

THEN TO PROCEED FROM THERE.

Dispatch From a French Consul Did Not Mention Killing of German Minister Yorktown Ordered to Try and Communicate With Kempff, and Then Reply.

MANILA, June 18.—Ten a.m. Manila time the Ninth regiment has been ordered to Manila, whence it will proceed to China.

PARIS, June 18.—A cablegram received from the French consul at Hong-kong did not mention the reported murder of the German minister at Pekin or the reported destruction of the legations there. The French consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed that the European detachments sent to Pekin were advancing very slowly. In the recent rioting in Pekin, the consul reported the Boxers burned the Protestant Episcopal establishments in the Chinese town. All was quiet in the French concession.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A third day passed here without a single line of news from any official source respecting the critical situation in China. Inquiries of the cable companies showed that not only were the communications by wire with Pekin, Taku, Tsin and all Northern China suspended, but the notices conveyed little encouragement for the hope that they would be soon reopened.

The navy department made an effort to reach Rear Admiral Kempff on his flagship Newark at the Taku forts, at the mouth of the Pei-Ho river. A cablegram was addressed to the commander of the U. S. S. Yorktown, at Chee Foo, repeating the message intited to Admiral Kempff last Thursday, inquiring as to his situation, the conditions at Pekin at last report and into his need for more men and ships, and directing the commander to take the message at once to Taku and return with the answer. The department is now pretty well assured that the original message never reached Admiral Kempff. The department did not know whether the message to Che Foo could be delivered, but made the effort. From Che Foo to Taku is only a single day's run for the Yorktown, so that an answer from Admiral Kempff should be received by tonight, if Che Foo was reached yesterday by the Yorktown.

Failing this effort, resort will be speedily had to other measures, if meantime word is not received from someone in authority in China.

Meanwhile, if the communications remain interrupted with Taku it is certain that a movement will be ordered at once to Manila to despatch more naval force or troops on the transports, to reinforce Admiral Kempff and extend aid to the international relief column which, it was beginning to be feared, was itself in sore need of help.

General MacArthur probably would require a few days to prepare a military expedition, owing to the inadvisability of reducing his present small garrison in Manila. Even Admiral Remey may be obliged to delay sending ships, owing to the absence of the smaller craft suitable for such service as is required on scouting duty among the islands of the archipelago.

The state department received numerous telegrams from relatives and friends of Americans in northern China and Pekin, praying for news touching the welfare of their friends. Mr. Ledward, of Detroit, father of the wife of the German ambassador at Pekin, reported to have been killed by the Boxers, was one of the most anxious of these inquirers, and ex-Secretary Alger was another, each intimating a willingness to meet any expense that might be involved in an order from the department to some responsible officials near the scene of the trouble to secure information by any means in their power.

LONDON, June 18.—3 a.m.—There is not a cabinet in Europe apparently that knows what has been transpiring in Pekin for five days or in Tien Tsin for three days. The German foreign office, upon learning the report of the murder of Baron Von Kettler, the German minister at Pekin, sent a telegraphic inquiry to St. Petersburg, the Russian government, because of its wires to Manchuria being supposedly in a better position than the other governments to get news. The German foreign office was informed that nothing whatever was known on the subject, as communication with Pekin was interrupted.

The report spread world wide from Shanghai that the legations had been attacked and that one minister, probably the German, had been murdered, was traced to the Tao Tai Shang who, for a few days, as the empress dowager's agent, has been censoring telegrams from Shanghai.

According to another tale ran from Shanghai dated June 17, 1:25 p.m., Shang had fled, fearing that the foreign authorities were about to arrest him because of his stoppage of telegrams.

A third cablegram asserted that the reports of the murder of German Minister emanated from London, were quite unconfirmed and discredited at Shanghai.

"The German minister has been captured," was the announcement to The Morning Post, from Pekin, in a dispatch dated June 13, 5 p.m., via Tien Tsin, June 15. This was the latest press message known to have left Pekin.

OUR OWN COUNTY.

The Scenery and Landscape Views Are Simply Magnificent.

Editor News Review: I am a comparative stranger in this community. I have the honor of residing in a far distant western state, on prairie land, where hills and mountains are conspicuous by their absence, and I have much enjoyed my dashes over these same prairies, seated on a fleet-footed mustang, at times varying the horseback exercise with a ride in a buck wagon, with two speedy roadsters whirling me along. There is much of happiness in our western home, and I have enjoyed the surroundings to the full.

But I have lately enjoyed a new and novel experience, in a gloriously beautiful day, through the medium of a drive from East Liverpool to Lisbon, your county seat, resting in a handsome equipage, behind a fine team of horses; up hill and down hill was indeed a decided novelty to me. And, oh the glorious views on every hand, as far as eye could embrace, forest and field ornamented with beautiful green, while the distant meadows seemed as if covered with the richest of velvet carpeting. The day was simply superb, the roadway free of dust and the air charged with the very essence of life giving properties, the combinations and surroundings causing me to mentally decide, on account of the carelessness and lack of appreciation of these beauties and blessings on the part of the Buckeye resident seated by my side:

"Surely the people of Columbian county, Ohio, have become surfeited with the good things of life and the wondrous beauties embraced within their domain."

120 REBELS KILLED LAST WEEK.

Malaria Fever Among Soldiers—Members of Philippine Commission Divide Their Work Preparatory to Starting Sessions Sept. 1.

MANILA, June 18.—With the exception near Penaranda, when the Americans defeated an insurgent band under General Lucena, the campaigning during the past week was quiet than usual. This was partly due to the rains, the wet season having commenced. An official bulletin states that the American losses during the week were four killed and 20 wounded. The rebels lost 120 killed and 30 captured, including three officers. One hundred and thirty insurgents surrendered and turned over 150 rifles. In addition 25 rifles were captured.

The heavy rains are also disheartening the guerrillas, who are not able to move rapidly owing to the condition of the country. This is the fourth day of the typhoon. Extremely heavy rains are falling in northern and central Luzon. The rivers are flooded and the railroad, where it passes through valleys, is inundated to the depth of half a foot. The telegraph line is down, and in Manila bay shipping has been delayed and damaged.

The commissary quartermasters have been working very hard for some time past in anticipation of the rainy season. They have succeeded in getting to a majority of the garrisons sufficient supplies to last from two to four months. So long as the rains prevail the work of supplying the garrisons in the distant interior will be most difficult.

Malaria fever has been prevalent since April in parts of Cavite and Batangas provinces, which are garrisoned by the Forty-sixth and Thirty-ninth regiments. Thirty per cent of the men of each regiment are on the sick list. Of two battalions in Batangas province one has 150 sick and the other 190.

Judge Taft and his colleagues of the civil commission are studying the different legislative phases of the situation preparatory to the work of enacting new laws on September 1, when they assume executive power. The subjects have been tentatively divided among them as follows:

Judge Taft, crown lands, land titles, the church and civil service, the last named with a view of bringing from the United States a good class of government employees who shall eventually replace army officers in the civil administration; Luke Wright, internal improvements, constabulary, commerce, corporation franchises and the criminal code; Henry C. Ide, banking and currency and the organization of civil courts; and Bernard Moses, revenues, taxation and schools.

The commissioners have established offices in the same building with General MacArthur and are receiving, discussing and absorbing the opinions of army and navy men and of foreigners and Filipinos. The people of Manila seem pleased with the democratic course of the commissioners and with their habitually courteous demeanor. The earlier feeling of disappointment is slowly disappearing.

King had telephoned for a hack, he and his wife intending to take the train for Birmingham, Ala. Flood was intoxicated. King shot him for insisting on coming into the house, so he said. King was found in Council Bluffs later and arrested.

Mrs. King says that there was some difficulty between the hackman and her husband over the fare to the railway station.

U.S. TROOPS FOR CHINA

Ninth Regiment Ordered to Manila.

THEN TO PROCEED FROM THERE.

Dispatch From a French Consul Did Not Mention Killing of German Minister Yorktown Ordered to Try and Communicate With Kempff, and Then Replied.

MANILA, June 18.—Ten a.m. Manila time the Ninth regiment has been ordered to Manila, whence it will proceed to China.

PARIS, June 18.—A cablegram received from the French consul at Hong-kong did not mention the reported murder of the German minister at Pekin or the reported destruction of the legations there. The French consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed that the European detachments sent to Pekin were advancing very slowly. In the recent rioting in Pekin, the consul reported the Boxers burned the Protestant Episcopal establishments in the Chinese town. All was quiet in the French concession.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A third day passed here without a single line of news from any official source respecting the critical situation in China. Inquiries of the cable companies showed that not only were the communications by wire with Pekin, Taku, Tein Tsin and all Northern China suspended, but the notices conveyed little encouragement for the hope that they would be soon re-opened.

The navy department made an effort to reach Rear Admiral Kempff on his flagship Newark at the Taku forts, at the mouth of the Pei-Ho river. A cablegram was addressed to the commander of the U. S. S. Yorktown, at Chee Foo, repeating the message intimated to Admiral Kempff last Thursday, inquiring as to his situation, the conditions at Pekin at last report and into his need for more men and ships, and directing the commander to take the message at once to Taku and return with the answer. The department is now pretty well assured that the original message never reached Admiral Kempff. The department did not know whether the message to Chee Foo could be delivered, but made the effort. From Chee Foo to Taku is only a single day's run for the Yorktown, so that an answer from Admiral Kempff should be received by tonight, if Chee Foo was reached yesterday by the Yorktown.

Failing this effort, resort will be speedily had to other measures, if meantime word is not received from someone in authority in China.

Meanwhile, if the communications remain interrupted with Taku it is certain that a movement will be ordered at once to Manila to despatch more naval force or troops on the transports, to reinforce Admiral Kempff and extend aid to the international relief column which, it was beginning to be feared, was itself in sore need of help.

General MacArthur probably would require a few days to prepare a military expedition, owing to the inadvisability of reducing his present small garrison in Manila. Even Admiral Remey may be obliged to delay sending ships, owing to the absence of the smaller craft suitable for such service as is required on scouting duty among the islands of the archipelago.

The state department received numerous telegrams from relatives and friends of Americans in northern China and Pekin, praying for news touching the welfare of their friends. Mr. Ledward, of Detroit, father of the wife of the German ambassador at Pekin, reported to have been killed by the Boxers, was one of the most anxious of these inquirers, and ex-Secretary Alger was another, each intimating a willingness to meet any expense that might be involved in an order from the department to some responsible officials near the scene of the trouble to secure information by any means in their power.

LONDON, June 18.—3 a.m.—There is not a cabinet in Europe apparently that knows what has been transpiring in Pekin for five days or in Tien Tsin for three days. The German foreign office, upon learning the report of the murder of Baron Von Kettler, the German minister at Pekin, sent a telegraphic inquiry to St. Petersburg, the Russian government, because of its wires to Manchuria being supposedly in a better position than the other governments to get news. The German foreign office was informed that nothing whatever was known on the subject, as communication with Pekin was interrupted.

The report spread world wide from Shanghai that the legations had been attacked and that one minister, probably the German, had been murdered, was traced to the Tao Tai Shang who, for a few days, as the empress dowager's agent, has been censoring telegrams from Shanghai.

According to another tale ran from Shanghai dated June 17, 1:25 p.m., Shang had fled, fearing that the foreign authorities were about to arrest him because of his stoppage of telegrams.

A third cablegram asserted that the reports of the murder of German Minister emanated from London, were quite unconfirmed and discredited at Shanghai.

"The German minister has been captured," was the announcement to The Morning Post, from Pekin, in a dispatch dated June 13, 5 p.m., via Tien Tsin, June 15. This was the latest press message known to have left Pekin.

OUR OWN COUNTY.

The Scenery and Landscape Views Are Simply Magnificent.

Editor News Review: I am a comparative stranger in this community. I have the honor of residing in a far distant western state, on prairie land, where hills and mountains are conspicuous by their absence, and I have much enjoyed my dashes over these same prairies, seated on a fleet-footed mustang, at times varying the horseback exercise with a ride in a buck wagon, with two speedy roadsters whirling me along. There is much of happiness in our western home, and I have enjoyed the surroundings to the full.

But I have lately enjoyed a new and novel experience, in a gloriously beautiful day, through the medium of a drive from East Liverpool to Lisbon, your county seat, resting in a handsome equipage, behind a fine team of horses; up hill and down hill was indeed a decided novelty to me. And, oh the glorious views on every hand, as far as eye could embrace, forest and field ornamented with beautiful green, while the distant meadows seemed as if covered with the richest of velvet carpeting. The day was simply superb, the roadway free of dust and the air charged with the very essence of life giving properties, the combinations and surroundings causing me to mentally decide, on account of the carelessness and lack of appreciation of these beauties and blessings on the part of the Buckeye resident seated by my side:

"Surely the people of Columbiana county, Ohio, have become surfeited with the good things of life and the wondrous beauties embraced within their domain."

120 REBELS KILLED LAST WEEK.

Malaria Fever Among Soldiers—Members of Philippine Commission Divide Their Work Preparatory to Starting Sessions Sept. 1.

MANILA, June 18.—With the exception near Penaanda, when the Americans defeated an insurgent band under General Lucenas, the campaigning during the past week was quiet than usual. This was partly due to the rains, the wet season having commenced. An official bulletin states that the American losses during the week were four killed and 20 wounded. The rebels lost 120 killed and 50 captured, including three officers. One hundred and thirty insurgents surrendered and turned over 150 rifles. In addition 25 rifles were captured.

The heavy rains are also disheartening the guerillas, who are not able to live without shelter and who are unable to move rapidly owing to the condition of the country. This is the fourth day of the typhoon. Extremely heavy rains are falling in northern and central Luzon. The rivers are flooded and the railroad, where it passes through valleys, is inundated to the depth of half a foot. The telegraph line is down, and in Manila bay shipping has been delayed and damaged.

The commissary quartermasters have been working very hard for some time past in anticipation of the rainy season. They have succeeded in getting to a majority of the garrisons sufficient supplies to last from two to four months. So long as the rains prevail the work of supplying the garrisons in the distant interior will be most difficult.

Malaria fever has been prevalent since April in parts of Cavite and Batangas provinces, which are garrisoned by the Forty-sixth and Thirty-ninth regiments. Thirty per cent of the men of each regiment are on the sick list. Of two battalions in Batangas province one has 150 sick and the other 190.

Judge Taft and his colleagues of the civil commission are studying the different legislative phases of the situation preparatory to the work of enacting new laws on September 1, when they assume executive power. The subjects have been tentatively divided among them as follows:

Judge Taft, crown lands, land titles, the church and civil service, the last named with a view of bringing from the United States a good class of government employees who shall eventually replace army officers in the civil administration; Luke Wright, internal improvements, constabulary, commerce, corporation franchises and the criminal code; Henry C. Ide, banking and currency and the organization of civil courts; and Bernard Moses, revenues, taxation and schools.

The commissioners have established offices in the same building with General MacArthur and are receiving, discussing and absorbing the opinions of army and navy men and of foreigners and Filipinos. The people of Manila seem pleased with the democratic course of the commissioners and with their habitually courteous demeanor. The earlier feeling of disappointment is slowly disappearing.

Stockbroker Claimed He Tried to Enter His House While Drunk—Wife Told Different Story.

OMAHA, June 18.—C. H. King, a stock broker living on North Twenty-fifth street, shot and killed a hackman named James Flood. The tragedy occurred while passersby were numerous on their way to church and almost a panic resulted.

King had telephoned for a hack, he and his wife intending to take the train for Birmingham, Ala. Flood was intoxicated. King shot him for insisting on coming into the house, so he said King was found in Council Bluffs later and arrested.

Mr. King says that there was some difficulty between the hackman and his husband over the fare to the railway station.

MAY FORCE HIM TO ACCEPT.

It Is Said He Could Not Afford to Decline—He Expressed a Belief That He Could Check the Boom—Put Forth by Platt and Backed by Quay.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The long advertised stampede for Roosevelt for the vice presidential nomination was such as to indicate that it probably can not be checked. Nothing but a positive declaration from Governor Roosevelt that he would not accept the nomination after it was made would stop it and he will not make that declaration.

Looking to the future, Governor Roosevelt and his friends realize that the declination of a popular and enthusiastic nomination for vice president, may be with the idea that it will contribute to the success of the party in the campaign, would no doubt mean political oblivion.

It is accepted by leaders that Roosevelt was sincere in his emphatic declarations that he would not accept and was not a candidate, but he now realizes that the political movement to force the nomination upon him has reached a point beyond his control.

From the very beginning Senator Hanna declared that the president was not taking any part in the selection of his running mate, and the senator gave no indication of his own choice. He had favored Mr. Bliss, but he announced upon his arrival here that for personal reasons Bliss could not accept.

While Roosevelt admitted that the situation looked as if he would be forced into a nomination, he was hoping that such would not be the case and was using every effort to change the sentiment. He said:

"My place is at the head of the ticket in New York state. I feel that Mr. Hanna is right, and that I can do more to help Mr. McKinley by running in New York state than by being on the national ticket."

Roosevelt's appearance in the Hotel Walton raised the enthusiasm of the people in the corridor to a high pitch.

Platt had declared against Bliss and Hanna would not accept Woodruff. Upon this rock the two leaders split. Platt, backed by Pennsylvania, pressed upon Roosevelt's candidacy.

Governor Roosevelt said that he was sanguine that he could overcome the sentiment in his favor and convince the delegates that it was for President McKinley's best interests to have him stay in New York as a candidate for governor.

The Dolliver people were unshaken in their confidence that their man had an excellent chance for the vice presidency even when the Roosevelt boom is taken into consideration. They based their hopes upon the assumption that Governor Roosevelt would, in the end, decline to accept the nomination or to have it forced upon him.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—A movement was gotten under way here booming Roosevelt for the vice presidency. The Pennsylvania delegation, those that were here, met and it was soon announced that the state delegation had taken a positive position for the governor for the second place on the ticket.

This announcement was soon followed by the statement which was made upon excellent authority, that Colonel Quay and Platt and others are in sympathy with him and had held conference and had decided upon a campaign which was intended to bring Roosevelt to the front as a candidate, stampede the convention for him and force his acceptance of the nomination.

Among others who were taken into the confidence of Quay and Platt was General John P. Elkin, the leader of the Quay forces in the state also declared for Roosevelt.

Senator Allison announced that he was earnestly supporting the candidacy of Mr. Dolliver and that he hoped to see him nominated for the vice presidency.

In the event that the New Yorkers agree upon some available candidate the Iowa men will not press Dolliver's nomination. They say New York should have the first call upon the nomination if it can decide upon a man. If it does not agree upon this point and the Iowa people did not rate Woodruff as an available man, they will push for the nomination of Dolliver against any and all candidates. They were said to be confident that Dolliver will be able to beat Woodruff before the convention and will be a strong candidate before the people at large.

Colonel Quay announced himself as for Roosevelt because of his confidence that the governor's nomination would assure the success of the Republican ticket in November, but there are those—and they are not enemies of the colonel—who announced this belief that his position was the result of antagonism on his part to Senator Hanna, chairman of the national committee. It was also accepted that Quay still remembered the fact that the Ohio senator had cast his influence against him in his recent effort to secure his old seat in the senate by gubernatorial appointment. Quay did not admit the truth of these statements, saying there were broader reasons for nominating Roosevelt.

It was also asserted by those in position to know that Roosevelt's acceptance in case of his nomination was assured, but this was not put upon stronger grounds than that Senator Platt had given this assurance. There can be no doubt, however, regardless of Roosevelt's own position, that he is to be the Platt-Quay candidate and they feel safe in the confidence that he will not decline the office if it is forced upon him.

The development of the movement in Roosevelt's behalf had the effect of bringing former Secretary Bliss conspicuously forward as the opposing candidate, and the fact was announced by those very close to him that he would accept if nominated. From the first Senator Hanna and his followers have advocated the nomination of either Bliss or Allison.

The latter has made his own declination absolutely unequivocal, thus forcing Bliss to the front despite his own disinclination to accept the position.

Mr. Bliss repeated his desire to be relieved of the responsibility, but his friends left him with the knowledge that if the nomination should be tendered it would not be declined.

"I don't want to say that I will not accept before the tender is made, for that would be premature," he said, "but I do say, for the hundredth time, that I hope the right man will be found for the place and that I will not be asked to serve. On the other hand," he added, "after no little entreaty, "I will not say that if nominated I would decline. I know of no American who has ever declined so high an office, and I shall not say that I would do so."

The Pennsylvania delegation will meet this afternoon, when, it is understood, a resolution will be adopted declaring for Roosevelt. It is stated that at least 58 of the 64 delegates from this state will be for Roosevelt. Colonel Quay gave an interview to The Associated Press in which he said: "I do not know what Pennsylvania will do, as all of the delegates have not yet arrived here.

"I have looked over the situation and find there is nothing else in view except the election of McKinley. I intend to vote for Governor Roosevelt for vice president. The election or defeat of McKinley is a question of 500,000,000 of dollars to Pennsylvania and I will cast my votes on the vice presidency in the interest of my state to strengthen McKinley.

"I know nothing at all about what is going to happen in the convention. This is merely my individual view."

General John P. Elkin, the leader of the Quay forces in the state also declared for Roosevelt.

Senator Allison announced that he was earnestly supporting the candidacy of Mr. Dolliver and that he hoped to see him nominated for the vice presidency.

In the event that the New Yorkers agree upon some available candidate the Iowa men will not press Dolliver's nomination. They say New York should have the first call upon the nomination if it can decide upon a man. They were said to be confident that Dolliver will be able to beat Woodruff before the convention and will be a strong candidate before the people at large.

The Massachusetts delegation took steps to get into direct telephone communication with Secretary Long to ascertain that his wishes concerning the vice presidential situation. This last move was regarded as rather significant. The delegation is to a man strongly favorable to the secretary, and it was believed that co-operation could be secured with the delegations of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island, so as to secure a practically solid vote of the 78 New England delegates.

So many combinations and possibilities were in the air, however, that a committee, consisting of Messrs. Shaw, Murray and Rockwell, was chosen to ascertain Mr. Long's wishes as to the presentation of his name. It was supposed he was at Washington and could be reached by long distance phone, but later it developed that he was at his summer home at Hingham, Mass., where it was hoped to communicate with him later. The delegation was also divided up into committees, which started on canvasses in behalf of the Long candidacy.

The West Virginians were determined to present one of their senators as a vice presidential candidate. Senator Scott first proposed a boom for his colleague, Mr. Elkins, but a strong sentiment began to manifest itself at the West Virginia headquarters. The delegation at least wants to place one of them in nomination and compliment him with the state's vote. After that there is no definite choice thus far, although the tendencies are toward Roosevelt or some other eastern candidate.

D. M. Ferry, of the Michigan delegation, had not decided who to support for the vice presidency. There was, however, a strong sentiment among the Michigan men for Dolliver.

The Nebraska delegation developed quite strongly in favor of Senator Fairbanks' vice presidential candidacy, and such influential members of the delegation as Senator Thurston and Editor Rosewater regarding the Indiana man as particularly strong for the place.

The platform has been framed.

It holds providence responsible for the Spanish war and the annexation of "our newly acquired territory," and promises Porto Rico and the Philippines a liberal measure of home rule as rapidly as the people are fit to exercise it. It pledges Cuban independence under a protectorate by this government as soon as the political conditions on that island will permit. It asserts that the financial question and the tariff are out of politics, and that the people of the country owe their property to the protection of their industries, to a stable currency and a single gold standard of value provided for them by the Republican party.

The instrument is of considerable length. It begins by calling attention to the promises that were made in the St. Louis convention of 1890, and after enumerating them, declares that faith has been kept in almost every instance, as is shown by the statutes which the last Congress added to the laws of the country. Special attention is called to the fact that the platform of 1896 promised that the country should be put upon the gold standard and that this pledge has been faithfully maintained. There is a clear and distinct declaration for the maintenance of this standard, and the resolutions as so far proposed make no reference to bimetallism. The resolutions also contain the declaration for a protective tariff.

The plank on the Philippines is practically in the language of the President's message, promising the restoration of order and the establishment of authority in the islands and the granting of local self-government so soon as the Filipinos show that they are prepared for it.

On the question of trusts the platform recognizes the right of capital to combine for industrial purposes, but condemns all conspiracies in restraint of trade and the limitation of prices.

There will be a declaration for an Isthmian canal rather than for a canal via the Nicaragua route specifically, pending the report of the commission appointed to investigate. A demand will be made for the condign punishment of crimes committed by American officials in Cuba. Legislation for the restoration of the merchant marine will be endorsed.

There is a proposition to at least express the hope, with reference to China, that that empire shall not be dismembered.

A demand will be made for the protection of American missionaries and other Americans in China.

The President's policy with reference to the Philippines is endorsed throughout, and his conduct of the war with Spain is upheld in the strongest terms of commendation and praise. The President's course on the Boer-British entanglement is also endorsed and attention is called to the fact that under his guidance the United States has been the only Nation to offer mediation between the warring nations.

The President also comes in for praise because of his attitude in The Hague peace conference, and the administration is especially commended for its position and its accomplishment in the matter of an open door in China.

NOT SOUGHT BY LONG.

Declared He Would Make No Aggressive Campaign For Vice Presidency.

BOSTON, June 18.—Secretary of the Navy Long, who with his wife arrived at his home in Hingham, said in part in regard to the vice presidential nomination:

"I have ever maintained that the office is one which should not be sought. I have not done a thing to further my candidacy in any way. I have never mentioned the subject to a person unless it were broached to me, and I have not yet become an aggressive candidate."

Asked if he would commence an aggressive campaign, he replied:

"No."

He further said that while Mr. Hanna may have his own candidate, he believed that the delegates will be entirely independent in the matter.

McKinley's Canton Friends.

CANTON, O., June 18.—A special train on the Pennsylvania road leaves Canton today bearing 200 of the friends and neighbors of President McKinley, bound for Philadelphia to participate in the demonstrations attending the national convention. With the vanguard that has already gone they constitute a crowd of about 300 from the president's home.

NATIVE CHRISTIANS KILLED NEAR PEKIN.
CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL BURNED—MISSION BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

LONDON, June 18.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times, in a dispatch dated June 14, via Tsin Tsin, June 15, said:

"A serious anti-foreign outbreak took place last night, when some of the finest buildings in the eastern part of the city were burned and hundreds of native Christians and servants employed by foreigners were massacred within two miles of the imperial palace.

"It was an anxious night for all foreigners, who were collected under the protection of the foreign guards.

The Boxers burned the Roman Catholic East cathedral, the large buildings of the Blondon mission and the American board of missions and also the buildings in the western part of the city occupied by the foreign employees of the maritime customs.

"If the troops to reinforce the foreign guards fail to arrive today, further riots are expected. It is believed that no European has been injured."

TO ARREST TAYLOR.

Believed Attempt Will Be Made at Philadelphia—Promised Protection In Pennsylvania.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 18.—The state officials, as well as representatives of the prosecution, would neither affirm nor deny the report that requisitions on governors of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania for the arrest of W. S. Taylor have been made in anticipation of his trip through those states to the national convention. It was the general belief here that the attempt to arrest him would be made in Philadelphia.

A number of persons in this state wrote to Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, urging him to follow the position taken by Governor Mount in the event Taylor was arrested. Governor Taylor's friends said they had assurances from leading Republicans of Pittsburg that a requisition would not be honored in that state.

TWO MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Another Man Probably Fatally Hurt In Mine Accident.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 18.—Two men were instantly killed and another had his skull fractured and was fatally injured in a terrible accident near Mason town while working in a shaft being sunk by the American Coke company. The injured man fell a distance of 230 feet, while the two men killed were at work at the bottom of the shaft and were killed like rats in a trap. The killed are:

Earl Pitty, colored.

Earl Proctor, colored.

Injured:

Leroy Dickenson.

Dickenson, the engineer, started to go down in an iron bucket, which dropped, crushing the two men to death and injuring Dickenson.

Congressman Hoffecker Dead.

SMYRNA, June 18.—Congressman John H. Hoffecker, of Smyrna, died at his residence here. His death, so unexpected, has thrown a deep gloom over the entire community. He had been in his usual health Friday and Saturday morning was quietly attending to his duties, when he was taken with a severe attack of indigestion. He called Mrs. Hoffecker, and she went for his physician, Dr. E. S. Dwight, but before the doctor reached the house Mr. Hoffecker was dead. Apoplexy was the cause.

The latter has made his own declination absolutely unequivocal, thus forcing Bliss to the front despite his own disinclination to accept the position.

Mr. Bliss repeated his desire to be relieved of the responsibility, but his friends left him with the knowledge that if the nomination should be tendered it would not be declined.

"I don't want to say that I will not accept before the tender is made, for that would be premature," he said, "but I do say, for the hundredth time, that I hope the right man will be found for the place and that I will not be asked to serve. On the other hand," he added, "after no little entreaty, 'I will not say that if nominated I would decline. I know of no American who has ever declined so high an office, and I shall not say that I would do so.'

The Pennsylvania delegation will meet this afternoon, when, it is understood, a resolution will be adopted declaring for Roosevelt. It is stated that at least 58 of the 64 delegates from this state will be for Roosevelt. Colonel Quay gave an interview to The Associated Press in which he said: "I do not know what Pennsylvania will do, as all of the delegates have not yet arrived here."

"I have looked over the situation and find there is nothing else in view except the election of McKinley. I intend to vote for Governor Roosevelt for vice president. The election or defeat of McKinley is a question of 500,000,000 of dollars to Pennsylvania and I will cast my votes on the vice presidency in the interest of my state to strengthen McKinley."

"I know nothing at all about what is going to happen in the convention. This is merely my individual view."

In connection with the movement among the Pennsylvanians to further the nomination of Roosevelt, Attorney

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

General John P. Elkin, the leader of the Quay forces in the state also declared for Roosevelt.

Senator Allison announced that he was earnestly supporting the candidacy of Mr. Dolliver and that he hoped to see him nominated for the vice presidency.

In the event that the New Yorkers agree upon some available candidate the Iowa men will not press Dolliver's nomination. They say New York should have the first call upon the nomination if it can decide upon a man. If it does not agree upon this point and the Iowa people did not rate Woodruff as an available man, they will push for the nomination of Dolliver against any and all candidates. They were said to be confident that Dolliver will be able to beat Woodruff before the convention and will be a strong candidate before the people at large.

The Massachusetts delegation took steps to get into direct telephone communication with Secretary Long to ascertain what his wishes concerning the vice presidential situation. This last move was regarded as rather significant. The delegation is to a man strongly favorable to the secretary, and it was believed that co-operation could be secured with the delegations of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island, so as to secure a practically solid vote of the 78 New England delegates.

So many combinations and possibilities were in the air, however, that a committee, consisting of Messrs. Shaw, Murray and Rockwell, was chosen to ascertain Mr. Long's wishes as to the presentation of his name. It was supposed he was at Washington and could be reached by long distance 'phone, but later it developed that he was at his summer home at Hingham, Mass., where it was hoped to communicate with him later. The delegation was also divided up into committees, which started on canvasses in behalf of the Long candidacy.

The West Virginians were determined to present one of their senators as a vice presidential candidate. Senator Scott first proposed a boom for his colleague, Mr. Elkins, but a strong sentiment began to manifest itself at the West Virginia headquarters. The delegation at least wants to place one of them in nomination and compliment him with the state's vote. After that there is no definite choice thus far, although the tendencies are toward Roosevelt or some other eastern candidate.

D. M. Ferry, of the Michigan delegation, had not decided who to support for the vice presidency. There was, however, a strong sentiment among the Michigan men for Dolliver.

The Nebraska sentiment developed quite strongly in favor of Senator Fairbanks' vice presidential candidacy, and such influential members of the delegation as Senator Thurston and Editor Rosewater regarding the Indiana man as particularly strong for the place.

The platform has been framed.

It holds providence responsible for the Spanish war and the annexation of "our newly acquired territory," and promises Porto Rico and the Philippines a liberal measure of home rule as rapidly as the people are fit to exercise it. It pledges Cuban independence under a protectorate by this government as soon as the political conditions on that island will permit. It asserts that the financial question and the tariff are out of politics, and that the people of the country owe their property to the protection of their industries, to a stable currency and a single gold standard of value provided for them by the Republican party.

The instrument is of considerable length. It begins by calling attention to the promises that were made in the St. Louis convention of 1896, and after enumerating them, declares that faith has been kept in almost every instance, as is shown by the statutes which the last Congress added to the laws of the country. Special attention is called to the fact that the platform of 1896 promised that the country should be put upon the gold standard and that this pledge has been faithfully maintained. There is a clear and distinct declaration for the maintenance of this standard, and the resolutions as so far proposed make no reference to bimetallism. The resolutions also contain the declaration for a protective tariff.

The plank on the Philippines is practically in the language of the President's message, promising the restoration of order and the establishment of authority in the islands and the granting of local self-government so soon as the Filipinos show that they are prepared for it.

On the question of trusts the platform recognizes the right of capital to combine for industrial purposes, but condemns all conspiracies in restraint of trade and the limitation of prices.

There will be a declaration for an Isthmian canal rather than for a canal via the Nicaragua route specifically, pending the report of the commission appointed to investigate. A demand will be made for the condign punishment of crimes committed by American officials in Cuba. Legislation for the restoration of the merchant marine will be indorsed.

There is a proposition to at least express the hope, with reference to China, that that empire shall not be dismembered. A demand will be made for the protection of American missionaries and other Americans in China.

The President's policy with reference to the Philippines is endorsed throughout, and his conduct of the war with Spain is upheld in the strongest terms of commendation and praise. The President's course on the Boer-British entanglement is also endorsed and attention is called to the fact that under his guidance the United States has been the only nation to offer mediation between the warring nations.

The President also comes in for praise because of his attitude in The Hague peace conference, and the administration is especially commended for its position and its accomplishment in the matter of an open door in China.

NOT SOUGHT BY LONG.

Declared He Would Make No Aggressive Campaign For Vice Presidency.

BOSTON, June 18.—Secretary of the Navy Long, who with his wife arrived at his home in Hingham, said in part in regard to the vice presidential nomination:

"I have ever maintained that the office is one which should not be sought. I have not done a thing to further my candidacy in any way. I have never mentioned the subject to a person unless it were broached to me, and I have not yet become an aggressive candidate."

Asked if he would commence an aggressive campaign, he replied:

"No."

He further said that while Mr. Hanna may have his own candidate, he believed that the delegates will be entirely independent in the matter.

McKinley's Canton Friends.

CANTON, O., June 18.—A special train on the Pennsylvania road leaves Canton today bearing 200 of the friends and neighbors of President McKinley, bound for Philadelphia to participate in the demonstrations attending the national convention. With the vanguard that has already gone they constitute a crowd of about 300 from the president's home.

HUNDREDS

WERE MASSACRED.

NATIVE CHRISTIANS KILLED NEAR PEKIN.
CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL BURNED—MISSION BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

LONDON, June 18.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times, in a dispatch dated June 14, via Tsin Tsin, June 15, said:

"A serious anti-foreign outbreak took place last night, when some of the finest buildings in the eastern part of the city were burned and hundreds of native Christians and servants employed by foreigners were massacred within two miles of the imperial palace.

"It was an anxious night for all foreigners, who were collected under the protection of the foreign guards.

The Boxers burned the Roman Catholic East cathedral, the large buildings of the Blondon mission and the American board of missions and also the buildings in the western part of the city occupied by the foreign employees of the maritime customs.

"If the troops to reinforce the foreign guards fail to arrive today, further riots are expected. It is believed that no European has been injured."

TO ARREST TAYLOR.

BELIEVED ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE AT PHILADELPHIA—PROMISED PROTECTION IN PENNSYLVANIA.

FRANKFORT, KY., June 18.—The state officials, as well as representatives of the prosecution, would neither affirm nor deny the report that requisitions on governors of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania for the arrest of W. S. Taylor have been made in anticipation of his trip through those states to the national convention. It was the general belief here that the attempt to arrest him would be made in Philadelphia.

A number of persons in this state wrote to Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, urging him to follow the position taken by Governor Mount in the event Taylor was arrested. Governor Taylor's friends said they had assurances from leading Republicans of Pittsburgh that a requisition would not be honored in that state.

TWO MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH.

ANOTHER MAN PROBABLY FATALY HURT IN A MINE ACCIDENT.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 18.—Two men were instantly killed and another had his skull fractured and was fatally injured in a terrible accident near Mason town while working in a shaft being sunk by the American Coke company. The injured man fell a distance of 230 feet, while the two men killed were at work at the bottom of the shaft and were killed like rats in a trap. The killed are:

Earl Pitty, colored.

Earl Proctor, colored.

Injured:

Leroy Dickenson.

Dickenson, the engineer, started to go down in an iron bucket, which dropped, crushing the two men to death and injuring Dickenson.

Congressman Hoffecker Dead.

SMYRNA, June 18.—Congressman John H. Hoffecker, of Smyrna, died at his residence here. His death, so unexpected, has thrown a deep gloom over the entire community. He had been in Philadelphia Monday. He appeared in his usual health Friday and Saturday morning was quietly attending to his duties, when he was taken with a severe attack of indigestion. He called Mrs. Hoffecker, and she went for his physician, Dr. E. S. Dwight, but before the doctor reached the house Mr. Hoffecker was dead. Apoplexy was the cause.

Horses and Rider Killed.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 18.—Benjamin R. Landis, a well-known Manheim farmer, and two of his horses were instantly killed at the Pleasant road crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, north of the city.
